French General Goes on Trial

PARIS (AP) — Ex-Gen. Raoul Salan went on trial for treason today before a special court that is considered certain to sentence him to death for his leadership of the Secret Army Organization in Algeria.

President de Gaulle's government enforced extraordinary security precautions around the rambling, historic Palace of Justice to prevent any desperate attempt by rightist terrorists to free their hero.

Salan, 62, former supreme commander in Algeria, was arrested April 20 in Algiers along with his wife and daughter. The black mustache and black hair dye that were part of his disguise for a year have disappeared. The mustache was shaved off and the hair has returned to its natural gray.

The specific charges against Salan are that he took part in the short-lived generals' revolt in Algiers in April, 1961, and later took command of the underground secret army's terror campaign. Both insurrections were staged to defeat Algerian independence.

The prosecution will lay before the court documents and testimony charging that Salan, as head of the terrorists, was responsible for more than 2,000 attacks in Algeria and 400 in France, which caused more than 400 deaths and 1,100 injuries.

Salan denied none of the charges during the pre-trial investigation. Instead he asked the court to call De Gaulle and 132 other witnesses in an effort to widen the scope of the trial beyond the generals' revolt and the Secret Army campaign.

"I am ready to die," Salan has said, "but first I intend to defend my honor."

Korea Regime Plans To Pardon 13,180

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — The military government will pardon 13,180 convicts and reduce prison terms for 8,790 others Wednesday on the first anniversary of its seizure of power.

Officials said 3,227 of those pardoned will actually be released from 21 prisons. The others already have been paroled.

Gen. Chung Hee Park, chairman of the ruling junta, said many of the convicts had committed offenses during previous civil governments when, he said, corruption and injustice prevailed. He called on those freed to repent and "live up to the expectations of the government and the people."

Secret Army Steps Up Its Algeria Terror

20 Moslems Killed After Mohammedans Attack in Reprisal

ALGIERS (AP) — The European Secret Army Organization stepped up its killing of Moslems today in retaliation for the first major Moslem terrorist attack since the March 18 cease-fire.

By 11 a. m., 19 Moslem men and a Moslem woman had been killed in Algiers and nine Moslems had been wounded. The Europeans concentrated their shooting in the Hussein Dey quarter, where many Moslems live.

One European was killed and one wounded.

The killing of Moslems spread to Oran, secret army hotbed in Algeria. Five Moslems, including a woman, were slain by terrorists. A 70-year-old Moslem man was shot to death in a Jewish quarter.

Authorities in both Algiers and Oran seemed powerless to choke off the terrorism.

The Moslem outburst Monday was seen as a warning of worse to come unless the European terrorists are checked. The secret army replied with more shooting. Police said 26 persons were killed and 88 wounded by commandos of the Moslem National Liberation Front who drove at high speed through Algiers with machine guns blazing. Twenty of the dead and 78 of the wounded were Europeans.

The secret army's terrorist toll Monday was 10 Moslems, three of them women.

The Moslem rampage ended only after authorities imposed a curfew in the city and ordered police to shoot on sight anyone caught on the streets. Before the violence stopped, police had killed some of the Moslem commandos and arrested a number of others.

By nightfall Algiers' streets were empty except for long convoys of French army vehicles and (Continued on Page 2)

New Orleans First Grade To Be Mixed

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The New Orleans School Board, under pressure by the federal courts, has voted to drop all racial bars in the first grade of public schools this fall.

The board currently is under a federal court order to desegregate the first six grades, but has filed an appeal for a new trial.

Under the board's decision Monday night, all children entering the first grade in September will be permitted to attend either the white or Negro school for their district, whichever they choose.

This action drops use of the pupil placement plan for the first grade, but that system of assignment remains in effect for the second and third grades.

The board action was by a 3-0 vote. Two board members, including Emile Wagner, an outspoken opponent of school desegregation, were absent.

The board also authorized School Supt. O. Perry Walker to begin a study of how to abolish biracial school districts, starting with the first grade. Federal Judge J. Skelly Wright ruled last month that the board's use of a pupil placement plan in a biracial school system was unconstitutional.

Nickel Plate Chief Sees Higher Profit

CLEVELAND (AP) — On the basis of results for the first four months, F. S. Hales, president of the Nickel Plate Road (the New York, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad Co.) predicted today that "both gross revenues and net income for the entire year of 1962 should be considerably better than in 1961."

Hales told shareholders at their annual meeting Nickel Plate gross revenues for the first four months of this year were $44,102,000 and net income was $2,774,000, equivalent to 66 cents per share. These figures compare with gross revenues of $40,170,000 and net income of $2,258,000, or 55 cents a share, for the corresponding period last year.

The stamp commemorates the Pan American Exposition of 1901, held in Buffalo. It was part of a collection of Margaret Flick Hoffmann of Florence, Italy, and formerly of New York.

The purchaser of the stamp Monday was not named.

Probers Eye Pieces of Estes Puzzle; GOP Files New Charges of Finagling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators try today to fit together the pieces of the Billie Sol Estes puzzle as Republicans filed new charges of finagling and called for Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman to resign.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee that is exploring the complicated ventures of the indicted Texas financier, said he would meet with two subcommittee investigators who questioned Estes in Texas. They apparently got little from him, McClellan said Monday.

Complicating the puzzle, Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., acknowledged today the receipt of $1,700 in contributions from Billie Sol Estes toward payment for his weekly radio broadcast to Texas constituents.

U.S.-Germany Accord Found

Berlin Differences Now Said Only Minor

BONN, Germany (AP) — The United States and West Germany have reduced their differences to what they call "details," but informed sources said one detail is a key provision of U.S. proposals to the Soviet Union for a Berlin settlement.

A communique issued after a two-hour meeting between U.S. Ambassador Walter C. Dowling and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer Monday said the two nations were in "full agreement in all essential points."

"There will be further talks over several details," the communique added. "It is the intention of both sides to remain in close touch."

Informants said disagreement continues to center on the U.S. proposal for East German representation on a 13-nation authority to control access routes to West Berlin.

The Bonn government, after seemingly rejecting the whole idea last week, once again says it favors the basic principles of an international authority but objects to East German participation. The West Germans fear that this would imply further international recognition of East Germany's Communist regime.

Adenauer also objected to inclusion of three neutral nations on the authority. He said this would give them control and place on them a responsibility they would not accept.

Informants said there was also disagreement over other points but further details were not disclosed. The communique said the meeting concerned U.S.-West German relations with "special consideration of the German-Berlin question, problems of European unity and the general world political situation."

Teacher Suspended For Rough Paddling

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP) — The Hillsdale Board of Education has suspended a 7th grade English teacher accused of paddling a 15-year-old Hayesville student so hard he had to have medical care.

The board acted Monday night to suspend Theodore Potts pending investigation of the alleged paddling of Lester Bassler last Friday.

A delegation of 15 parents went to Hillsdale administrative offices Monday night for the regular meeting of the board and demanded that Potts be suspended.

Potts was not present, but he and Gene Yeater, assistant principal at the school, and Jack Carr, mathematics teacher, were ordered to appear before the board at a public hearing tonight.

2-Cent Postage Stamp Is Sold for $5,200

NEW YORK (AP) — A 2-cent postage stamp showing an upside-down railroad train brought $5,200 at an auction held by H. R. Harmer Inc.

The stamp commemorates the Pan American Exposition of 1901, held in Buffalo. It was part of a collection of Margaret Flick Hoffmann of Florence, Italy, and formerly of New York.

The purchaser of the stamp Monday was not named.

Yarborough, in a statement, said there were no strings to these contributions, which he said were received at a time Estes "was being feted by chambers of commerce as the ideal young American."

"I knew him as a devout lay church worker and a devoted family man," Yarborough added. "As far as I knew until late March, he was a responsible businessman."

The investigators — subcommittee counsel Donald O'Donnell and Paul E. Kamerick — also are expected to brief McClellan on reports of other investigators trying to spade up evidence in Texas on Estes' wheeling and dealing and any profitable connections he may have had with government officials.

Pair Hopes First Baby Is Boy; So Do Their 18 Other Kids

CARMEL, Calif. (AP) — Like many an expectant couple, Navy Chief Warrant Officer Francis Louis Beardsley and his wife Helen hope their first child will be a boy.

That's just fine with their other 18 children too.

In 1960, Beardsley's first wife died of diabetes. They had 10 children. That same year, Helen North lost her Navy officer husband in a jet crash. She was left with eight children.

They heard of each other through a friend and exchanged sympathetic notes. They met. He proposed six days later. She accepted. Last Sept. 9 Beardsley, 45, and Helen, a pretty brunette who is 31, were married.

They set up housekeeping with their 18 children.

The Beardsleys happily announced Monday that another child is on the way. Beardsley described the other 18 children as wild with excitement.

Beardsley added, "Nobody can appreciate the scene when we told the children. It was exhilarating. It was like winning the Irish Sweepstakes."

Beardsley works in Monterey at the Navy's postgraduate school. He says the child will be born in the nearby Ft. Ord hospital about July 15.

"We'll name him John Joseph," Beardsley declared. "The girls outnumber the boys now 12 to 6."

And if it's a girl? "We haven't decided on a girl's name," Beardsley said.

The 18 children range in age from 2 to 17 years.

Indonesians Drop Chutists Into Guinea

HOLLANDIA, West New Guinea (AP) — Four Indonesian transport planes supported by two Mitchell bombers dropped 40 or more paratroops and supplies into West New Guinea at dawn today to reinforce encircled Indonesian guerrillas, the Dutch reported.

A communique said the bombers were driven off — apparently by naval guns — but that two C47 transport planes succeeded in dropping at least 40 paratroops into the jungle south of the village of Fakfak, in westernmost New Guinea.

The two other transports dropped supplies to about 50 Indonesians who had parachuted into New Guinea April 27 and now are bottled up by Dutch soldiers, marines and Papuan volunteers about 16 miles north of Fakfak, the communique said.

It was believed the paratroops came from Indonesian-held Ceran Island, about 120 miles southwest of New Guinea.

Dutch forces sealed off the area, halting all plane flights and refusing correspondents entry.

The Dutch said the paratroops were dropped east of Fakfak while the supplies were unloaded north of the village in the general vicinity where the first contingent was dropped April 27.

A spokesman said none of the four was shot down. There was no report of contact on the ground between Dutch forces and the invaders.

Trucker Snoozes As Thieves Work

CINCINNATI (AP) — No one can say Ed Brady, 33, a truck driver from Granite Falls, N. C., isn't a good sleeper.

Brady, driving a tractor-trailer for the Newton Transportation Co. of Lenoir, N. C., pulled into a truck parking lot here about 9:30 Sunday night and climbed into the back of his cab to sleep a while.

When he awakened at 6 a. m. today he found someone had gotten into the unlocked trailer and stolen a $40 lounge chair and a $100 sofa.

The burglars had hauled the two articles out of the truck, removed them from their crates and then left, leaving the crates behind.

Senate and House peppered the Agriculture Department and its chief with more stinging words.

Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., called for Freeman's resignation in a Senate speech Monday. Allott also said the White House had maintained a "strange silence"

He and Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., charged that possibly criminal reprisal had been taken against people at the Agriculture Department who wanted to discontinue or investigate facts about Estes' deals.

Williams said a woman secretary in the department had been "railroaded" into a mental institution here for "refusing to cooperate in covering up corruption" in the department. Freeman's office promptly issued a statement disputing this and said the department regretted that the medical problems of an employee had been made into a political controversy.

Allott said the woman, Miss Mary Kimbrough Jones, 51, was "dragged off screaming" and held for 12 days at an institution, then found to be mentally sound.

He and Williams both questioned whether law had been violated because, they said, she had no chance to talk to her own doctor or lawyer, there was no reason to believe she might need mental care and she was found to be sane.

Once Around Roundtown

TED LEWIS is now home from the hospital and making "wonderful progress," according to a letter from Mrs. Lewis received here yesterday by Ben Gordon.

Along with the letter was a check for $50 — earmarked for Berger Hospital. The contribution was Ted's remembrance of National Hospital Week, observed across the nation last week.

Mrs. Lewis expressed thanks to the Gordons and many other friends for their thoughtfulness during Ted's illness.

Berger Hospital also was the recipient of another $50 check, sent to Gordon by the combined Ted Lewis Playhouse — Sophie Tucker Playgroup groups which are affiliated with Camp Williams at Suffern, N. Y.

Still another check for $50 was received from the Playhouse-Playground groups. This one was directed to the Pickaway County Cancer Society.

The latter two checks were sent by Gertrude Aber, treasurer of the Lewis - Tucker affiliated organization. She stated that the contributions were in honor of Ted's recovery.

FLOWERS again will be growing in the small circular plot of ground in front of the Courthouse. Pickaway County's Board of Commissioners yesterday gave approval to the local Merry-Mixers 4-H Club to go ahead with planting.

Last year's bountiful flower crop was an added attraction at the Courthouse. Giving full support for a similar project this year were Commissioners Charles Morris, Lloyd Melvin and Clyde Michel.

The developments came in the face of a statement in Moscow that the United States was "taking another dangerous step fraught with serious consequences" in Laos by concentrating forces in the Southeast Asian area.

It reinforced a suspicion among Western diplomats that the Soviet Union is giving the Communists in the area something like a free hand in the Laos area and will not back U.S. and British efforts (Continued on Page 2)

Yankee on Moon 'Worth $20 Billion'

AMHERST, Mass. (AP) — A $20 billion U.S. effort to put a man on the moon ahead of the Soviet Union will be worth it because of the knowledge to be gained and not because of any strategic values, rocket expert Werner Von Braun says.

Von Braun said Monday night that he agreed with predictions by others in the field that the United States can put a man on the moon within 10 years.

"It will cost about $20 billion to put a man on the moon and the byproducts of the lunar project will make it worthwhile," he told a University of Massachusetts audience.

U.S. Mother in China To Visit Jailed Son

HONG KONG (AP) — Mrs. Mary Downey of New Britain, Conn., crossed into Communist China today to visit her imprisoned son John in Peiping.

Public Works Bill Rapped by Lausche

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Democratic Sen. Frank Lausche has supported a move to shunt President Kennedy's $2.6 billion public works bill back to the Banking Committee, where sponsors fear it would be delayed indefinitely.

The Lausche-supported move was blocked Monday by the Senate Democratic leadership.

Banking Chairman A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., sought to get the bill returned to his committee which is against the financing arrangement. Sponsors of the bill have reported that a new financing arrangement may be worked out which will satisfy many of the objections.

1800 Marines To Aid Army Battalion There

Uneasy Laos Situation Causes U.S. To Bolster Anti-Red Defense Line

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today ordered 1,800 U.S. Marines into Thailand.

The chief executive announced his action in a statement which said that:

"These forces are to help insure the territorial integrity of this peaceful country."

The statement mentioned only the dispatch of "additional elements of the U.S. military forces, both ground and air."

An administration official said the additional elements consisted of 1,800 Marines who will be landed at the Bangkok Naval Base at 10 a. m. Washington time (9 a. m. EST) Wednesday.

He said they are being moved in by units of the 7th fleet.

They will supplement an Army battalion of 1,000 men already in Thailand for Southeast Asia Treaty Organization maneuvers.

The Defense Department later announced that the American military force in Thailand eventually will total 5,000 men. About 1,200 additional Army GIs will be sent in plus Air Force and Marine tactical air support units.

Kennedy said the sending of additional U.S. forces to Thailand was considered desirable "because of recent attacks in Laos by Communist forces, and the subsequent movement of Communist military units toward the border of Thailand."

The President called a threat to Thailand a matter of grave concern to this country. But he said he wished to emphasize that the dispatch of U.S. forces to the southeast Asian nation is "a defensive act on the part of the United States" and completely consistent with provisions of the United Nations charter which recognizes that nations have an inherent right to take collective measures for self defense.

Kennedy said that he had directed that the United Nations be notified of the actions this country is taking. He said, too, that "We are in consultation with SEATO governments on the situation."

Kennedy's announcement followed one in Bangkok by Premier Sarit Thanarat that Thailand and the United States had agreed to the stationing of U.S. troops in Thailand.

Kennedy said in his statement that there is no change in U.S. policy toward Laos, "which continues to be the re-establishment of an effective cease-fire and prompt negotiations for a government of national unity."

The developments came in the face of a statement in Moscow that the United States was "taking another dangerous step fraught with serious consequences" in Laos by concentrating forces in the Southeast Asian area.

Husband Gets Last Shattering, Burning Word in Quarrel

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A suburban Lansing husband got the last word in a day-long quarrel with his wife by driving his convertible through the picture window of their home.

Before he headed for the house, police said, John Clayton McDonald, 41, started a fire in the attached garage.

Neighbors called the sheriff complaining of a domestic quarrel. They called police when McDonald started breaking windows around the house and called the fire department when they saw the fire, police reported.

McDonald's wife, Patricia, told police she heard the crash just after she left the house to go to a neighbor's home.

McDonald was jailed on a reckless driving charge.

Police estimated damage to the car and house at $4,000. McDonald, they said, suffered only a minor cut.

Mock Flights Help Prepare For Man Orbit on Saturday

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — If Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter had been aboard his "Aurora 7" spacecraft on its latest simulated mission, he would not have completed his full three-orbit mission.

Control room men made several things go wrong just to show what could happen on the actual flight, now set for Saturday. Everything appeared to progress smoothly on the first orbit. Then problems popped up in quick succession.

The altitude control system acted up, making it difficult to keep the heat shield forward. Then an inverter, an instrument that switches direct to alternating current, overheated.

Medical monitors noted a minor problem with the equipment transmitting the astronaut's pulse rate.

Suddenly, the electronic clock aboard the capsule, which automatically fires the reverse rockets to bring the craft out of orbit, began losing one second every minute.

Smoke from an unknown source filled the capsule and began filtering into the pilot's pressure suit. In the Mercury control center at Cape Canaveral, flight director Christopher Craft assessed the troubles and decided the astronaut's life was in danger.

Aurora 7 was ordered back to earth after two orbits, instead of the intended three, and the capsule impacted in the Atlantic Ocean 45 miles from a waiting recovery ship.

The simulation was a game—a deadly serious game the world-wide Mercury control center played to sharpen its ability to direct Carpenter safely through space.

Carpenter did not participate in this simulation. His backup, Walter M. Schirra, "flew" the landlocked Aurora 7 during the launching phase, then personnel at tracking stations around the globe read the part written for the astronaut during the flight.

The Mercury team has played the game more than 40 times in preparation for Carpenter's flight, many times with Carpenter seated in the capsule now in place atop the Atlas booster rocket.

One more full dress rehearsal is scheduled Thursday in the final tuneup for Carpenter's space ride.

Findlay College Woman Prof Under Fire

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Nydia Barker Luthy, head of the Findlay College chemistry department, is being held here by federal authorities on charges of entering the United States after being deported.

The 50-year-old chemist, a native of Russia, was arrested yesterday by immigration and naturalization officers in Findlay.

Dr. Luthy was brought to the United States at the age of 3. She was deported in 1951 on grounds that she was a member of the Young Communist League.

Immigration officials said she re-entered the United States at Apple, Fla., in September, 1960. She used her maiden name of Barker and falsely claimed to be an American citizen, the government contends.

Findlay College authorities said Dr. Luthy — she used the name Barker at the college — had stated that she received her bachelor's degree at the University of Michigan and advanced degrees at Stanford. She also claimed to have been on the faculties at Cornell and Ohio Northern University, they said.

She was held in Lucas County jail for arraignment before a U.S. Commissioner.

They will supplement an Army battalion of 1,000 men already in Thailand for Southeast Asia Treaty Organization maneuvers.

The Defense Department later announced that the American military force in Thailand eventually will total 5,000 men. About 1,200 additional Army GIs will be sent in plus Air Force and Marine tactical air support units.

Kennedy said the sending of additional U.S. forces to Thailand was considered desirable "because of recent attacks in Laos by Communist forces, and the subsequent movement of Communist military units toward the border of Thailand."

The President called a threat to Thailand a matter of grave concern to this country. But he said he wished to emphasize that the dispatch of U.S. forces to the southeast Asian nation is "a defensive act on the part of the United States" and completely consistent with provisions of the United Nations charter which recognizes that nations have an inherent right to take collective measures for self defense.

Kennedy said that he had directed that the United Nations be notified of the actions this country is taking. He said, too, that "We are in consultation with SEATO governments on the situation."

Kennedy's announcement followed one in Bangkok by Premier Sarit Thanarat that Thailand and the United States had agreed to the stationing of U.S. troops in Thailand.

Kennedy said in his statement that there is no change in U.S. policy toward Laos, "which continues to be the re-establishment of an effective cease-fire and prompt negotiations for a government of national union."

The developments came in the face of a statement in Moscow that the United States was "taking another dangerous step fraught with serious consequences" in Laos by concentrating forces in the Southeast Asian area.

That was part of an article in Pravda, the Communist party paper.

It reinforced a suspicion among Western diplomats that the Soviet Union is giving the Communists in the area something like a free hand in the Laos area and will not back U.S. and British efforts (Continued on Page 2)

Husband Gets Last Shattering, Burning Word in Quarrel

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A suburban Lansing husband got the last word in a day-long quarrel with his wife by driving his convertible through the picture window of their home.

Before he headed for the house, police said, John Clayton McDonald, 41, started a fire in the attached garage.

Neighbors called the sheriff complaining of a domestic quarrel. They called police when McDonald started breaking windows around the house and called the fire department when they saw the fire, police reported.

McDonald's wife, Patricia, told police she heard the crash just after she left the house to go to a neighbor's home.

McDonald was jailed on a reckless driving charge.

Police estimated damage to the car and house at $4,000. McDonald, they said, suffered only a minor cut.

French General Goes on Trial

Secret Army's Chief Faces Death Penalty

PARIS (AP) — Ex-Gen. Raoul Salan went on trial for treason today before a special court that is considered certain to sentence him to death for his leadership of the Secret Army Organization in Algeria.

President de Gaulle's government enforced extraordinary security precautions around the rambling, historic Palace of Justice to prevent any desperate attempt by rightist terrorists to free their hero.

Salan, 62, former supreme commander in Algeria, was arrested April 20 in Algiers along with his wife and daughter. The black mustache and black hair dye that were part of his disguise for a year have disappeared. The mustache was shaved off and the hair has returned to its natural gray.

The specific charges against Salan are that he took part in the short-lived generals' revolt in Algiers in April, 1961, and later took command of the underground secret army's terror campaign. Both insurrections were staged to defeat Algerian independence.

The prosecution will lay before the court documents and testimony charging that Salan, as head of the terrorists, was responsible for more than 2,000 attacks in Algeria and 400 in France, which caused more than 400 deaths and 1,100 injuries.

Salan denied none of the charges during the pre-trial investigation. Instead he asked the court to call De Gaulle and 132 other witnesses in an effort to widen the scope of the trial beyond the generals' revolt and the Secret Army campaign.

"I am ready to die," Salan has said, "but first I intend to defend my honor."

Korea Regime Plans To Pardon 13,180

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — The military government will pardon 13,180 convicts and reduce prison terms for 8,790 others Wednesday on the first anniversary of its seizure of power.

Officials said 3,227 of those pardoned will actually be released from 21 prisons. The others already have been paroled.

Gen. Chung Hee Park, chairman of the ruling junta, said many of the convicts had committed offenses during previous civil governments when, he said, corruption and injustice prevailed. He called on those freed to repent and "live up to the expectations of the government and the people."

to restore the cease-fire.
In addition to reassuring the nervous Thai leadership at Bangkok, Kennedy had other purposes in view in rushing U.S. forces toward Southeast Asia, spearheaded by the 7th Fleet task force.

One was to make the presence of American power felt in the region to offset the diplomatic reverses arising out of local defeats of government forces in Laos by the pro-Communist Pathet Lao.

The other has been to get U.S. forces into position to move quickly into Laos itself if Kennedy decided that step was necessary.

These late reports were found by U.S. policymakers to be signs of hope for a peaceful outcome to the Laotian crisis:
1. The fighting that started with Red seizure of the Lao government stronghold of Nam Tha last week has all but ceased. While this is not a cease-fire in the legal sense of returning government troops to positions they have lost, the fighting now is practically ended.

2. Neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma, the Laotian supposed to head up a nationwide government if it is ever formed, has given word to U.S. diplomats that he will end his lengthy Paris vacation and return home for negotiations on forming a coalition government. Phoumi Nosavan, strongman of the Royal Laotian regime who is now in Taiwan, also has indicated he will return to negotiate.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev, who saw American Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson in Moscow Sunday, is reported to have given no assurance that the Soviets will press the Laotian rebels to main a cease-fire. Khrushchev was said to be still professing a desire for a neutral government for Laos.

Springtime Causes Stir On Campus

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Temperatures in the 90s and the traditional springtime desire of college students to "let off steam" combined Monday night to cause quite a stir at Wittenberg University.

It started out as a water fight between a fraternity and sorority. The cool water apparently looked inviting in the hot weather as students began joining the fight. Students from the men's and women's dormitories and from all fraternities and sororities joined the fracas until an estimated 1,500 of Wittenberg's 1,800 students were taking part.

The girls had to be in the dorms by 10 p.m. but that wasn't enough to send the boys away. They remained outside the dorms still throwing water—now urged on by hundreds of girls gathered at dormitory windows. Some of the girls did some water throwing on their own—from inside the building.

Police were called to disperse the boys. Still the youthful spirit prevailed. It wasn't until 2 a.m., some eight hours after it began, that the mob of boys was dispersed.

There was no damage but one boy was arrested and charged with disturbing the peace.

Ohio All-Star Cage Game Is Cancelled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's annual north-south high school all-star basketball game, scheduled June 16 at Newark, was cancelled today.

The Ohio High School Basketball Coaches Association, sponsor of the Rebel-Yankee cage fray which annually featured the best of the Buckeye scholastic stars, said it was impossible to meet some of the stipulations laid down by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

New Dean Is Selected For Defiance College

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP) — Defiance College trustees have approved the appointment of Dr. Robert C. Mildram as Academic Dean.

Dr. Mildram, a native of Burlington, Vt., succeeds Dr. Henry W. Tausch, who is returning to Wooster College after serving a one-year interim period here.

WORK BEGINS — Activity was humming today in the Northridge Road-Nicholas Drive area where work has started on Circleville's Sewer District No. 2 project. This mound of dirt was heaped up by the local Marshall McFarland Co., contractor for the $139,000 job. General traffic on Northridge Road from N. Pickaway St. to Nicholas Drive was closed for today. The section of the project which will service the new Nicholas Drive School will be completed when the building opens in September. The entire job is scheduled for completion in 250 calendar days. DeGaulle Wants No Change In West's Rights in Berlin

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle declared today the Western powers must keep their present rights in Berlin without change.

At a crowded news conference, he also declared anew that France must build its own atomic force for her defense and independence, and again urged the formation of a European political union but along France's ideas of a loose confederation.

De Gaulle said France does not object to the United States' probe of Soviet intentions on Berlin.

"Now is not the moment to modify accomplished facts. The statute of Berlin was established on the basis of a quadripartite accord. It must not be changed," he added.

De Gaulle asserted that in the "current international circumstances it is vain to try to settle the problem of Germany in a satisfactory manner."

"The Soviets are demanding that the West finish with the German problem and they are using the Berlin crisis for this end."

"In the current atmosphere we very much doubt that any good results can be attained," he said. He acknowledged that in case of conflict the United States would be obliged to furnish the greatest effort, and hence is entitled to conduct the probe of Soviet policy. "As for us, we think it much more preferable to be reserved," he added.

It was at this point that De Gaulle insisted that now is not the time to change things at Berlin, or to modify the delicate balance between East and West.

Any change in the status of Berlin at this time, he said, would only aggravate the dangers of an era in which the whole world is permanently menaced with devastating destruction.

Deaths

MR. JERRY SITES
Mr. Jerry Sites, 94, Monroe Twp., died at 3:15 p.m. yesterday in Berger Hospital.

Mr. Sites was born in Madison County Feb. 18, 1868, the son of Andrew and Ida Lindig Sites.

He was a farmer all his life and was never married.

He is survived by one brother, James Sites, and one sister, Mrs. Lou Greene, both of Kansas; one niece, Miss Minnie Lindig, with whom he made his home, and several other nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be 2 p.m. Wednesday in the Hill Funeral Home, Williamsport, with the Rev. Donald Humble officiating. Burial will be in the Grove City cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home.

PP Tax Returns Filed by 2,536

A total of 2,536 persons have filed personal property tax returns to date with the Pickaway County Auditor's office, the tax department reported today.

Mrs. Maxine Radcliff, personal property tax deputy, said the original deadline of April 30 had been extended to May 10.

However, she said, nearly 200 extensions have been granted to businesses before payment of the tax will be penalized. An extension to June 30 has been granted for businessmen to complete their fiscal year.

Tax forms are being completed by the treasurer's office and should be ready within a few days, Mrs. Radcliff said.

Stock Market Rallies; Some Issues Slip

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market carried its rally higher but some gains had been whittled early this afternoon. Trading was heavy.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 2.90 to 240.40 with industrials ahead 4.10, rails 1.10 and utilities 2.00.

Trading lagged behind the 5.99-million-share pace of Monday's hectic session but the ticker tape trailed transactions almost from the opening bell.

Brokers agreed Monday's action was a selling climax but were being cautious about accepting it as the one that would put the market on a sustained upward course.

Gains ranged from fractions to about 2 points with a few wider movers.

President Kennedy's order for Marines to land in Thailand apparently had little effect on the market.

Steels were slightly higher following a report that the Kennedy administration has decided against endorsing antitrust legislation aimed at the steel industry.

IBM was up 6 points after having been ahead 7 1/2.

Mail order-retails, aircrafts, electronics, utilities, nonferrous metals, chemicals, oils and tobacco advanced. Motors and rails were mixed.

Sears Roebuck and Woolworth gained a point or so. Boeing added 1 1/2. AT&T advanced 2 1/4.

Du Pont up 2 1/4, Xerox up 2 and Polaroid up 5 off a little from earlier highs.

Republic Steel was up 3/4 and Chrysler 3/4.

At noon the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 6.27 to 652.47 after having been ahead 8.46 at 11 a.m.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange. Corporate bonds were mixed. Government bonds gained.

Miss Jones was secretary to N. Battle Hales, an Agriculture Department official whom Williams said was shifted to an insignificant job and stripped of access to files for demanding an FBI investigation of Estes' dealings.

Williams said Hales himself was questioned by the FBI instead, and that this marked the start of what he termed the harassment of Miss Jones for being loyal to Hales.

Hales, in a news conference two weeks ago, argued that Estes had received favored treatment at the agency. His superiors denied that this was true.

Governor Renews Education Plea

CINCINNATI (AP) — Governor Michael V. DiSalle has repeated his call for more money for education in Ohio.

In a talk before Xavier University students Monday, the governor noted the state had over two million students in public schools last year and will add about 400,000 over the next five years.

"If we are to receive the dividends from education," he said, "we first have to make the investment that will produce those dividends."

The governor said he believes the state's needed new revenues can be found in excise taxes.

Joint Newark Murder Trial To Be Asked

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—A hearing is scheduled this week on a motion to hold a joint first-degree murder trial for two Newark men and two juveniles charged with killing a Newark salesman.

Andrew Lester Sherman, 21, and Robert Tedman, 19, were declared sane Monday after spending a month at Lima State Hospital for observation. Upon receiving word of their sanity, the Licking County prosecutor filed the motion for the joint trial.

All four now have been declared sane and able to stand trial for the crime.

The joint trial hearing caused postponement of the trial of David Lee Rowland, 17, scheduled to begin today. The trial of the other 17-year-old, Ronald Lee, Waddell, is scheduled for May 22.

The four are charged with killing Paul Cullison, 60, who died when, during the course of a robbery in February, he fell and hit his head on the cement.

Secret Army

heavily guarded barricades thrown across major streets. Two department stores were gutted by bottles of gasoline hurled by the commandos.

The European secret army's goal has been to provoke the Moslems into reprisal attacks on Europeans in hopes this would bring the French army over to its side and torpedo the Evian peace agreement. But the secret army had hoped to trigger a mass Moslem uprising, not cold-blooded killing by commando forces using the same tactics as the secret army.

The Moslem commandos obviously were operating according to a prepared battle plan. They struck simultaneously from speeding cars in every sector of the city except the center. The apparent intent was to warn the secret army—and to prod the French government into more vigorous measures to crush the European terrorism.

Second Look Ordered for Ohio Merger

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has directed a lower tribunal to take another look at a Justice Department suit against merger of two manufacturers of bank vault equipment.

The department had appealed to the Supreme Court from a ruling by U. S. District Judge John H. Druffel in Cincinnati that Diebold, Inc., could purchase the Herring-Hall-Marvin Safe Co. plants at Canton and Hamilton, Ohio.

Druffel had ruled that the late company was a failing concern and its acquisition by Diebold did not threaten a lessening of competition in violation of the Dayton Anti-trust Act. Diebold on Sept. 11, 1959, acquired the other company's assets for $3 million and agreed to pay its liabilities amounting to about $1.8 million.

The Supreme Court in an unsigned opinion reversed Druffel's approval of the purchase. It said that inferences he drew from affidavits and exhibits submitted to him might be erroneous.

The material submitted to Druffel, the Supreme Court said raised "a genuine issue as to ultimate facts." It therefore ordered that he reconsider the material.

to restore the cease-fire. In addition to reassuring the nervous Thai leadership at Bangkok, Kennedy had two other purposes in view in rushing U.S. forces toward Southeast Asia, spearheaded by the 7th Fleet task force.

One was to make the presence of American power felt in the region to offset the diplomatic reverses arising out of local defeats of government forces in Laos by the pro-Communist Pathet Lao.

The other has been to get U.S. forces into position to move quickly into Laos itself if Kennedy decided that step was necessary.

These late reports were found by U.S. policymakers to be signs of hope for a peaceful outcome to the Laotian crisis.

1. The fighting that started with Red seizure of the Lao government stronghold of Nam Thet last week has all but ceased. While this is not a cease-fire in the legal sense of returning government troops to positions they have lost, the fighting now is practically ended.

2. Neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma, the Laotian supposed to head up a nationwide government if it is ever formed, has given word to U.S. diplomats that he will end his lengthy Paris vacation and return home for negotiations on forming a coalition government. Phoumi Nosavan, strongman of the Royal Laotian regime who is now in Taiwan, has indicated he will return to negotiate.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev, who saw American Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson in Moscow Sunday, is reported to have given no assurance that the Soviets will press the Laotian rebels to maintain a cease-fire. Khrushchev was said to be still professing a desire for a neutral government for Laos.

Springtime Causes Stir On Campus

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Temperatures in the 90s and the traditional springtime desire of college students to "let off steam" combined Monday night to cause quite a stir at Wittenberg University.

It started out as a water fight between a fraternity and sorority. The cool water apparently looked inviting in the hot weather as others began joining the fight. Students from the men's and women's dormitories and from all fraternities and sororities joined the fracas until an estimated 1,500 of Wittenberg's 1,800 students were taking part.

The girls had to be in the dorms by 10 p. m. but that wasn't enough to send the boys away. They remained outside the dorms still throwing water—now urged on by hundreds of girls gathered at dormitory windows. Some of the girls did some water throwing on their own—from inside the building.

Police were called to disperse the boys. Still the youthful spirit prevailed. It wasn't until 2 a. m., some eight hours after it began, that the mob of boys was dispersed.

There was no damage but one boy was arrested and charged with disturbing the peace.

Ohio All-Star Cage Game Is Cancelled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's annual north-south high school all-star basketball game, scheduled June 16 at Newark, was cancelled today.

The Ohio High School Basketball Coaches Association, sponsor of the Rebel-Yankee cage fray which annually featured the best of the Buckeye scholastic stars, said it was impossible to meet some of the stipulations laid down by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

New Dean Is Selected For Defiance College

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP)—Defiance College trustees have approved the appointment of Dr. Robert C. Midram as Academic Dean.

Dr. Midram, a native of Burlington, Vt., succeeds Dr. Henry W. Tausch, who is returning to Wooster College after serving a one-year interim period here.

WORK BEGINS—Activity was humming today in the Northridge Road-Nicholas Drive area where work has started on Circleville's Sewer District No. 2 project. This mound of dirt was heaped up by the local Marshall McFarland Co., contractor for the $139,000 job. General traffic on Northridge Road from N. Pickaway St. to Nicholas Drive was closed for today. The section of the project which will serve the new Nicholas Drive School will be completed when the building opens in September. The entire job is scheduled for completion in 250 calendar days. DeGaulle Wants No Change In West's Rights in Berlin

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle declared today the Western powers must keep their present rights in Berlin without change.

At a crowded news conference, he also declared anew that France must build its own atomic force for her defense and independence, and again urged the formation of a European political union but along France's ideas of a loose confederation.

De Gaulle said France does not object to the United States' probe of Soviet intentions on Berlin.

"Now is not the moment to modify accomplished facts. The statute of Berlin was established on the basis of a quadripartite accord. It must not be changed," he added.

De Gaulle asserted that in the "current international circumstances it is vain to try to settle the problem of Germany in a satisfactory manner."

"The Soviets are demanding that the West finish with the German problem and they are using the Berlin crisis for this end."

"In the current atmosphere we very much doubt that any good results can be attained," he said.

He acknowledged that in case of conflict the United States would be obliged to furnish the greatest effort, and hence is entitled to conduct the probe of Soviet policy. "As for us, we think it much more preferable to be reserved," he added.

It was at this point that De Gaulle insisted that now is not the time to change things at Berlin, or to modify the delicate balance between East and West.

Any change in the status of Berlin at this time, he said, would only aggravate the dangers of an era in which the whole world is permanently menaced with devastating destruction.

PP Tax Returns Filed by 2,536

A total of 2,536 persons have filed personal property tax returns to date with the Pickaway County Auditor's office, the tax department reported today.

Mrs. Maxine Radcliff, personal property tax deputy, said the original deadline of April 30 had been extended to May 10.

However, she said, nearly 200 extensions have been granted to businesses before payment of the tax will be penalized. An extension to June 30 has been granted for businesses to complete their fiscal year.

Tax forms are being completed by the treasurer's office and should be ready within a few days, Mrs. Radcliff said.

Stock Market Rallies; Some Issues Slip

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market carried its rally higher but some gains had been whittled early this afternoon. Trading was heavy.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 2.90 to 240.40 with industrials ahead 4.10, rails 1.10 and utilities 2.00.

Trading lagged behind the 5.99-million-share pace of Monday's hectic session but the ticker tape trailed transactions almost from the opening bell.

Brokers agreed Monday's action was a selling climax but were being cautious about accepting it as the one that would put the market on a sustained upward course.

Gains ranged from fractions to about 2 points with a few wider movers.

President Kennedy's order for Marines to land in Thailand apparently had little effect on the market.

Steels were slightly higher following a report that the Kennedy administration has decided against endorsing antitrust legislation aimed at the steel industry.

IBM was up 6 points after having been ahead 7 1/2.

Mail order-retails, aircrafts, electronics, utilities, nonferrous metals, chemicals, oils and tobacco advanced. Motors and rails were mixed.

Sears Roebuck and Woolworth gained a point or so. Boeing added 1 1/2. AT&T advanced 2 1/2.

Du Pont up 2 1/2, Xerox up 2 and Polaroid up 5 1/2 after a little from earlier highs.

Republic Steel was up 3/4 and Chrysler 3/4.

At noon the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 6.27 to 652.47 after having been ahead 8.46 at 11 a. m.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mixed. Government bonds gained.

Williams said Hales himself was questioned by the FBI instead, and that this marked the start of what he termed the harassment of Miss Jones for being loyal to Hales.

Hales, in a news conference two weeks ago, argued that Estes had received favored treatment at the agency. His superiors denied that this was true.

Governor Renews Education Plea

CINCINNATI (AP)—Governor Michael V. DiSalle has repeated his call for more money for education in Ohio.

In a talk before Xavier University students Monday, the governor noted the state had over two million students in public schools last year and will add about 400,000 over the next five years.

"If we are to receive the dividends from education," he said, "we first have to make the investment that will produce those dividends."

The governor said he believes the state's needed new revenues can be found in excise taxes.

Joint Newark Murder Trial To Be Asked

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—A hearing is scheduled this week on a motion to hold a joint first-degree murder trial for two Newark men and two juveniles charged with killing a Newark salesman.

Andrew Lesier Sherman, 21, and Robert Tedman, 19, were declared sane Monday after spending a month at Lima State Hospital for observation. Upon receiving word of their sanity, the Licking County prosecutor filed the motion for the joint trial.

All four now have been declared sane and able to stand trial for the crime.

The joint trial hearing caused postponement of the trial of David Lee Rowland, 17, scheduled to begin today. The trial of the other 17-year-old, Ronald Lee, Waddell, is scheduled for May 22.

The four are charged with killing Paul Cullison, 60, who died when, during the course of a robbery in February, he fell and hit his head on the cement.

heavily guarded barricades thrown across major streets. Two department stores were gutted by bottles of gasoline hurled by the commandos.

The European secret army's goal has been to provoke the Moslems into reprisal attacks on Europeans in hopes this would bring the French army over to its side and torpedo the Evian peace agreement. But the secret army had hoped to trigger a mass Moslem uprising, not cold-blooded killing by commando forces using the same tactics as the secret army.

The Moslem commandos obviously were operating according to a prepared battle plan. They struck simultaneously from speeding cars in every sector of the city except the center. The apparent intent was to warn the secret army—and to prod the French government into more vigorous measures to crush the European terrorism.

Linda Trimmer Ranks Third In State Finals

Linda Trimmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Trimmer, Route 4, placed third in the state in the Knights of Pythias public speaking contest held at the Ft. Findlay Hotel, Findlay, on Saturday.

Second Look Ordered for Ohio Merger

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court has directed a lower tribunal to take another look at a Justice Department suit against merger of two manufacturers of bank vault equipment.

The department had appealed to the Supreme Court from a ruling by U. S. District Judge John H. Druffell in Cincinnati that Diebold, Inc., could purchase the Herring-Hall-Marvin Safe Co. plants at Canton and Hamilton, Ohio.

Druffell had ruled that the late company was a failing concern and its acquisition by Diebold did not threaten a lessening of competition in violation of the Dayton Anti-trust Act. Diebold on Sept. 11, 1959, acquired the other company's assets for $3 million and agreed to pay its liabilities amounting to about $1.8 million.

The Supreme Court in an unsigned opinion reversed Druffell's approval of the purchase. It said that inferences he drew from affidavits and exhibits submitted to him might be erroneous.

The material submitted to Druffell, the Supreme Court said raised "a genuine issue as to ultimate facts." It therefore ordered that he reconsider the material.

Jackson Twp. Senior 3rd in State Contest

Larry Duleson, a senior at Jackson Twp. High School, won third place in the state in the agricultural engineering contest held at Ohio State University Saturday.

The test covered gas engines, electric motors, farm buildings, drainage, farm plumbing, farm shop and the operation and adjustment of farm machinery.

Duleson will be awarded with a three-day all-expense paid trip in July to the Ohio Agricultural Engineering Station at Coshocton. Hillis Hall, vocational agriculture instructor at Jackson, will make the trip with Duleson. Other points in Ohio and Michigan will be included in the tour.

Other Future Farmers of America from the Fox chapter who participated in contests at Ohio State were Joe Good, Roger Diffendal, Bruce List, Sam Cornwell and Robert Rudd.

HALL announced that the results from the dairy cattle judging general livestock judging and milk and cream judging have not been made available yet.

Duleson won the district engineering contest in April.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Algerian mystery is not how the Secret Army Organization is able to kill Moslems in bunches every day but why French President de Gaulle has not used the French army to smash the assassins.

It raises an unpleasant question about de Gaulle who takes such a strongman role against the Russians that he has refused even to join the United States in discussing a Berlin settlement with them.

How could he hope to cope with the gigantic Russian military power if he lacks the ability, or the will, to crush the comparatively small group of organized murderers in Algeria?

The answer is simple enough: He couldn't stop the Russians for five minutes without American help, although this might not be guessed from his attitude toward American efforts with Russia. Through months of murder, committed on the public streets, the French army in Algeria has arrested a few leaders of the secret army but has never made any wholesale effort to crush it. It has stood by while the murders piled up. In these months, while the secret assassins slaughtered their people, the Moslems refrained from fighting back. They feared it would eventually involve them with the French army and destroy their hopes of independence.

They finally reached the breaking point Monday after scores of their women had been shot down, and cut loose.

Until last March in Algeria, Moslem nationalists fought the French more than seven years for their independence. In 1958 when de Gaulle's predecessors in office headed toward a settlement with the Moslems, the regular army joined the settlers in revolt against the government in Paris.

The thought of losing Algeria, the last big remnant of French colonialism, seemed too overwhelming for the French troops who had seen their empire cut away from Lebanon, Syria, Tunisia, Morocco, and Indochina. It was after this that de Gaulle took over. In time, last March, he worked out a settlement with the Moslems, which was intended to keep Algerian links with France but let the Algerians choose independence.

After the history of their years of revolt—and the fact that they outnumbered the European settlers 9 to 1—there was no doubt the Moslems would choose independence.

The decision was to be made in a referendum about next September. The secret army, which had already turned Algeria into its own private slaughterhouse, redoubled its efforts.

Any head of a competent state might be expected to act against organized murder. De Gaulle's reluctance to do so doesn't speak well for the ability of the French government, under him or someone else, to control its destiny.

It has been said he fears that an attempt to use French troops against their countrymen among the assassins might cause an army revolt on behalf of the settlers who don't want the Moslems to run the country.

But this is one more example in a sorry history of French inadequacies, both at home and in its former colonies. For example: the endless succession of French governments since the war.

Another example: the French disaster in Indochina where it had practically no support among the people and where the French army was crushed by the Communists.

In some smaller and less pretentious nations this record might not have much significance.

But de Gaulle, the difficult ally, is the one who has visions of France as a leader of the West and the strongest power in Western Europe.

OSU Faculty OKs Stand by Prexy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—More than 1,000 Ohio State University faculty members have thrown their support behind President Novice G. Fawcett—the center of a broiling controversy over university policy on inviting speakers to the campus.

The vote of confidence came Monday at a spirited, jam-packed meeting attended by upwards of 1,500 faculty members who received cheers and jeers from about 1,000 students watching the proceedings from a balcony.

Ohio State has about 3,000 faculty members.

The voting faculty members adopted a resolution, 1,036 to 509, supporting the action of Fawcett when he canceled the appearance on campus last month of three controversial speakers. To be eligible to vote on matters of policy, faculty members must be at the university for at least six quarters.

Since the cancellation, one group of faculty members has urged the National Association of University Professors to investigate the situation. They contend the president has no authority to overrule faculty in selecting speakers.

Fawcett called the meeting primarily to explain why he canceled the appearance April 25 of three members of the controversial Emergency Civil Liberties Committee.

But when he finished his 40-minute explanation, Fawcett opened the floor to speakers and the resolution was introduced, along with several others which eventually were brushed aside by an abrupt motion to adjourn the meeting.

Fawcett listed two reasons for his action in canceling the appearance of the three speakers.

First, Fawcett said, in his judgment the three failed to meet university rules permitting the appearance of only those speakers who can contribute to the intellectual growth of the university.

Secondly, he said, the sponsoring group, Students for Liberal Action, said in its request for an auditorium that the affair was to be one of a series of nationwide rallies protesting congressional hearings.

At one point, Fawcett was interrupted by applause when he declared: "Academic freedom is not designed to become the tool of its own destruction. Freedom must not destroy freedom in the name of freedom."

After opening the floor for comments, Dr. Shepherd Liversant, faculty adviser of the Liberal Action group, brought jeers from many faculty members with a statement that students at Ohio State "are living in an atmosphere of intimidation."

It was Liversant's action of inviting the three speakers that Fawcett overruled. Liversant is an associate professor in the psychology department.

The sudden close of the meeting came with several proposals hanging. These included a recommendation by Fawcett for a revision of rules covering campus speakers. He said present rules do not clearly define responsibility and are the basic cause of the current dispute.

According to protesting faculty members, the rules leave the selection of speakers for university groups solely up to the faculty members and they have the right of final approval or disapproval.

Although the meeting netted no concrete results, Fawcett told newsmen later he is confident all issues will be resolved.

Tribunal OKs Conviction of Union Boss

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court affirmed Monday conviction of Maurice A. Hutcheson, president of the Carpenters Brotherhood, on a charge of contempt of Congress for refusal to answer questions asked by the Senate rackets investigating committee.

Justice Harlan announced the court's judgment. The tribunal's vote was 4-2.

Hutcheson was sentenced in U.S. District Court here to six months' imprisonment and fined $500.

He appeared before the committee in June 1958 but refused to answer 18 questions. He said they concerned personal matters and might aid in prosecution of an Indiana case against him.

In the Indiana case, Hutcheson and two other union officials were charged with conspiracy to bribe a state official to get highway information that led to a quick $78,000 profit. He later was convicted at Indianapolis on highway land scandal charges. An appeal is pending.

Hutcheson did not invoke the Fifth Amendment guarantee against self-incrimination in refusing to answer the 18 questions. In his appeal to the Supreme Court he contended he had been denied due process of law as guarantee by the Constitution.

This Is What District Vets Want To Know

Questions of interest to ex-service-men should be given to Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer, James Shea. His office is in the basement of the Courthouse.

Q — I am a World War II veteran. When will my entitlement to a GI Loan expire?

A — The entitlement of many World War II veterans for GI Loan benefits will expire on July 25, 1962. Expiration of entitlement of additional World War II veterans will occur each day thereafter until July 25, 1967 when the entitlement of World War II veterans having maximum eligibility will terminate. The exception to the rule is any World War II veteran discharged or released from active wartime service for a service-connected disability. This type of a veteran will have eligibility up to the maximum terminal date of July 25, 1967. To figure your exact time, if you were not discharged or released due to a service-connected disability, you add 10 years to your date of discharge from your last period of active wartime duty, plus one additional year for each 90 days of active wartime military duty. The earliest date on which entitlement of any World War II veteran will terminate is July 25, 1962. The maximum entitlement in any instance is July 25, 1967.

Q — Does marriage bar an otherwise eligible child of a deceased veteran from the War Orphans Education program?

A — No it does not. A child is still considered an "orphan" for all purposes of the program until age 23, and in certain cases, after that age.

Q — Is it possible for a World War II veteran to enter on a course of education through the VA?

A — Sorry, but the so called GI Bill of Rights which provided that education or training for World War II veterans has expired and the program is completed.

Q — The VA hospital where I was treated some years ago, wants me to return for a recheck, in connection with a medical research project. Will this have any effect on my compensation?

A — It will not. A research project has nothing to do with compensation. You can make a valuable contribution to medical science by returning to the hospital for examination.

Q — What does the VA mean by a "presumptive period" in connection with disease?

A — Generally, a wartime or Korean conflict veteran who develops a chronic disease to a degree of 10 per cent or more disability within one year of release or separation from service may be presumed to be service connected for VA disability compensation. In the case of active tuberculosis, multiple sclerosis or leprosy, the law provides a three-year presumptive period.

Ex-Mental Patient Confesses Slaying

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Dayton police report a former mental patient confessed Monday to the brutal knife slaying of 47-year-old Margaret Pyle in her used clothing store Feb. 4.

They say Billy Roy Smith, 20, of Dayton, confessed to the slaying during questioning about his arrest last night while burglarizing a roofing company.

Smith, once a patient at Orient State School, said he had been working as a janitor near the woman's store around the time of the slaying.

Medicare Plans Established Years In Sweden, Britian, West Germany

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sweden, Great Britain and West Germany are among the European nations which have had national medical care programs for a number of years.

In the United States, there is controversy today over an administration proposal for medical care to the aged through Social Security taxes. The European plans cover all age groups.

Sweden, generally regarded as the nation with the most comprehensive social welfare system has had some form of health program for the aged and needy since 1763 — before the United States was born.

It was only recently, though, in 1955 that the Swedes gathered all their local voluntary health plans into a national compulsory health insurance program for all, rich and poor, young and old.

Great Britain, whose National Health Service (NHS) is 14 years old, also makes virtually no distinction between young and old when it comes to passing out medical benefits.

But the old folks in Britain get some added services. Local authorities supply home nurses and domestic helpers for the aged and chronically ill. The services are free.

West Germany's medical care program for the aged and the needy dates back to the 1880s. Premium contributions are required from all employees earning less than $135 a month.

These programs admittedly are expensive—Sweden spends about one-third of its national budget on social welfare including medical care—but they no longer provoke storms of controversy.

All three major British parties, Conservative, Labor and Liberal, have voters with promises of bigger and better health services. Attempts to abolish NHS, most politicians agree, would be political suicide.

The Swedish plan is financed a quarter by employers, a quarter from tax revenues and half by individual fees collected with taxes. Persons 67 or more, children under 16 and those receiving disability or sickness allowances make no contributions.

Swedish health insurance covers fully the costs of hospital treatment, doctor's fees and travel expenses down to 80 cents. Some medicine is free; some is discounted 50 per cent on expenditures of more than 60 cents.

The British plan, which costs about nearly $2½ billion a year to run, is financed largely by taxation. A special weekly health contribution (37 cents for an employed man) amounts to one-seventh of the costs. Old people are exempt.

Consultations with British doctors are free. So is hospital treatment. There is a small charge of 37 cents for medicines. Glasses and false teeth are available at a fraction of the open market price.

Under NHS, these services are available to all, but special care of the aged is still a concern in Britain.

There is a bill before Parli-

ment, sponsored by Conservative MP Geoffrey Johnson Smith, designed to give local authorities the right to provide meals for old folks in their homes at a minimal charge.

"The bill would keep hundreds of old people out of hospitals and relieve the shortage of hospital beds for general use," says Smith.

In West Germany, every employee earning less than $135 a month contributes 5 per cent of his salary to a medical insurance plan. His employer matches the contribution.

If an employee earns more than $135 he may join the medical insurance plan voluntarily but his payments are larger. They are, however, deductible from his federal income tax.

Mandatory contributions to the plan stop when the worker retires but the insurance remains in force. Voluntary contributions continue after the retirement date.

The West German insurance plan covers all medical expenses, including medicine.

GOP Ticket Plans United Campaign

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The 11 Republicans nominated for statewide offices in last Tuesday's primary election have promised a united, vigorous campaign this fall.

The promise came at a three-hour session in Columbus Sunday — one of the earliest candidates' meetings after an election ever held by the party.

State GOP Chairman Ray C. Bliss said at the meeting: "We couldn't have asked for a better display of cooperation among the candidates. They all agreed to work together in a united campaign."

Plans for the fall campaign, outlined to the candidates by Bliss, will be laid before the 46 newly elected members of the party's state committee at its organizational meeting Wednesday.

Vice President Elevated To Top Position in India

NEW DELHI (AP)—Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan, 74, took the oath Sunday as India's second president and called on her 475 million people to settle their differences over religion, language and other issues.

Radhakrishnan had served as vice president for 12 years. He was named to the figurehead presidency by parliament and the state legislatures after ailing Rajendra Prasad decided to retire.

Defendant Anticipates Outcome of His Hearing

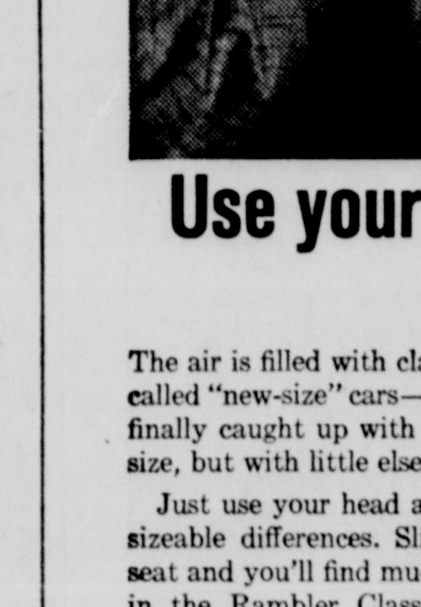

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Clarence Wallace, 62, apparently anticipated the outcome of his appearance in Municipal Court today on charges of possessing Irish Sweepstakes tickets.

Judge Cecil Edwards fined Wallace $508.60, including court costs. Wallace shelled out a $500 bill and nine ones, and was handed 40 cents change.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Algerian mystery is not how the Secret Army Organization is able to kill Moslems in bunches every day but why French President de Gaulle has not used the French army to smash the assassins.

It raises an unpleasant question about De Gaulle who takes such a strongman role against the Russians that he has refused even to join the United States in discussing a Berlin settlement with them.

How could he hope to cope with the gigantic Russian military power if he lacks the ability, or the will, to crush the comparatively small group of organized murderers in Algeria?

The answer is simple enough: He couldn't stop the Russians for five minutes without American help, although this might not be guessed from his attitude toward American efforts with Russia. Through months of murder, committed on the public streets, the French army in Algeria has arrested a few leaders of the secret army but has never made any wholesale effort to crush it.

It has stood by while the murders piled up. In these months, while the secret assassins slaughtered their people, the Moslems refrained from fighting back. They feared it would eventually involve them with the French army and destroy their hopes of independence.

They finally reached the breaking point Monday after scores of their women had been shot down, and cut loose.

Until last March in Algeria, Moslem nationalists fought the French more than seven years for their independence. In 1958 when De Gaulle's predecessors in office headed toward a settlement with the Moslems, the regular army joined the settlers in revolt against the government in Paris.

The thought of losing Algeria, the last big remnant of French colonialism, seemed too overwhelming for the French troops who had seen their empire cut away from Lebanon, Syria, Tunisia, Morocco, and Indochina.

It was after this that De Gaulle took over. In time, last March, he worked out a settlement with the Moslems, which was intended to keep Algerian links with France but let the Algerians choose independence.

After the history of their years of revolt—and the fact that they outnumbered the European settlers 9 to 1—there was no doubt the Moslems would choose independence.

The decision was to be made in a referendum about next September. The secret army, which had already turned Algeria into its own private slaughterhouse, redoubled its efforts.

Any head of a competent state might be expected to act against organized murder. De Gaulle's reluctance to do so doesn't speak well for the ability of the French government, under him or someone else, to control its destiny.

It has been said he fears that an attempt to use French troops against their countrymen among the assassins might cause an army revolt on behalf of the settlers who don't want the Moslems to run the country.

But this is one more example in a sorry history of French inadequacies, both at home and in its former colonies. For example: the endless succession of French governments since the war.

Another example: the French disaster in Indochina where it had practically no support among the people and where the French army was crushed by the Communists.

In some smaller and less pretentious nations this record might not have much significance.

But De Gaulle, the difficult ally, is the one who has visions of France as a leader of the West and the strongest power in Western Europe.

Tribunal OKs Conviction of Union Boss

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court affirmed Monday conviction of Maurice A. Hutcheson, president of the Carpenters Brotherhood, on a charge of contempt of Congress for refusal to answer questions asked by the Senate rackets investigating committee.

Justice Harlan announced the court's judgment. The tribunal's vote was 4-2.

Hutcheson was sentenced in U.S. District Court here to six months' imprisonment and fined $500. He appeared before the committee in June 1958 but refused to answer 18 questions. He said they concerned personal matters and might aid in prosecution of an Indiana case against him.

In the Indiana case, Hutcheson and two other union officials were charged with conspiracy to bribe a state official to get highway information that led to a quick $78,000 profit. He later was convicted at Indianapolis on highway land scandal charges. An appeal is pending.

Hutcheson did not invoke the Fifth Amendment guarantee against self-incrimination in refusing to answer the 18 questions. In his appeal to the Supreme Court he contended he had been denied due process of law as guarantee by the Constitution.

According to protesting faculty members, the rules leave the selection of speakers for university groups solely up to the faculty members and they have the right of final approval or disapproval.

Although the meeting netted no concrete results, Fawcett told newsmen later he is confident all issues will be resolved.

OSU Faculty OKs Stand by Prexy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—More than 1,000 Ohio State University faculty members have thrown their support behind President Norville G. Fawcett—the center of a broiling controversy over university policy on inviting speakers to the campus.

The vote of confidence came Monday at a spirited, jam-packed meeting attended by upwards of 1,500 faculty members who received cheers and jeers from about 1,000 students watching the proceedings from a balcony.

Ohio State has about 3,000 faculty members.

This Is What District Vets Want To Know

Questions of interest to ex-service men should be given to Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer, James Shea. His office is in the basement of the Courthouse.

Q—I am a World War II veteran. When will my entitlement to a GI Loan expire?

A—The entitlement of many World War II veterans for GI Loan benefits will expire on July 25, 1962. Expiration of entitlement of additional World War II veterans will occur each day thereafter until July 25, 1967 when the entitlement of World War II veterans having maximum eligibility will terminate. The exception to the rule is any World War II veteran discharged or released from active wartime service for a service-connected disability. This type of a veteran will have eligibility up to the maximum terminal date of July 25, 1967. To figure your exact time, if you were not discharged or released due to a service-connected disability, you add 10 years to your date of discharge from your last period of active wartime duty, plus one additional year for each 90 days of active wartime military duty. The earliest date on which entitlement of any World War II veteran will terminate is July 25, 1962. The maximum entitlement in any instance is July 25, 1967.

Q—Does marriage bar an otherwise eligible child of a deceased veteran from the War Orphans Education program?

A—No it does not. A child is still considered an "orphan" for all purposes of the program until age 23, and in certain cases, after that age.

Q—Is it possible for a World War II veteran to enter on a course of education through the VA?

A—Sorry, but the so called GI Bill of Rights which provided that education or training for World War II veterans has expired and the program is completed.

Q—The VA hospital where I was treated some years ago, wants me to return for a recheck, in connection with a medical research project. Will this have any effect on my compensation?

A—It will not. A research project has nothing to do with compensation. You can make a valuable contribution to medical science by returning to the hospital for examination.

Q—What does the VA mean by a "presumptive period" in connection with disease?

A—Generally, a wartime or Korean conflict veteran who develops a chronic disease to a degree of 10 per cent or more disability within one year of release or separation from service may be presumed to be service connected for VA disability compensation. In the case of active tuberculosis, multiple sclerosis or leprosy, the law provides a three-year presumptive period.

Q—Hutcheson was sentenced in U.S. District Court here to six months' imprisonment and fined $500. He appeared before the committee in June 1958 but refused to answer 18 questions. He said they concerned personal matters and might aid in prosecution of an Indiana case against him.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A prank involving a papier mache likeness of Smoky the Bear has ended in death for a Marine.

The victim and a fellow Marine kidnaped the 5-foot-6, 75-pound figure Friday night from "Storybook Land," a children's amusement park near Woodbridge, Va., 25 miles south of the Capital.

They hid it at the Washington Marine barracks until early Sunday morning, when they tried to perch it atop a flagpole on the front lawn of a home for veterans.

With a final tug on the rope the bear and the 20-foot flagpole fell to the ground, pinning Cpl. Edward C. Kaltenbach, 23, of Erie, Pa. Kaltenbach died of a brain hemorrhage, apparently caused when a metal spade in the bear's right hand punctured his skull.

Medicare Plans Established Years In Sweden, Britian, West Germany

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Sweden, Great Britain and West Germany are among the European nations which have had national medical care programs for a number of years.

In the United States, there is controversy today over an administration proposal for medical care to the aged through Social Security taxes. The European plans cover all age groups.

Sweden, generally regarded as the nation with the most comprehensive social welfare system has had some form of health program for the aged and needy since 1763—before the United States was born.

It was only recently, though, in 1955 that the Swedes gathered all their local voluntary health plans into a national compulsory health insurance program for all, rich and poor, young and old.

Great Britain, whose National Health Service (NHS) is 14 years old, also makes virtually no distinction between young and old when it comes to passing out medical benefits.

But the old folks in Britain get some added services. Local authorities supply home nurses and domestic helpers for the aged and chronically ill. The services are free.

West Germany's medical care program for the aged and the needy dates back to the 1880s. Premium contributions are required from all employees earning less than $135 a month.

These programs admittedly are expensive—Sweden spends about one-third of its national budget on social welfare including medical care—but they no longer provoke storms of controversy.

All three major British parties, Conservative, Labor and Liberal,

have voters with promises of bigger and better health services. Attempts to abolish NHS, most politicians agree, would be political suicide.

The Swedish plan is financed a quarter by employers, a quarter from tax revenues and half by individual fees collected with taxes. Persons 67 or more, children under 16 and those receiving disability or sickness allowances make no contributions.

Swedish health insurance covers fully the costs of hospital treatment, doctor's fees and travel expenses down to 80 cents. Some medicine is free; some is discounted 50 per cent on expenditures of more than 60 cents.

The British plan, which costs about nearly $2½ billion a year to run, is financed largely by taxation. A special weekly health contribution (37 cents for an employed man) amounts to one-seventh of the costs. Old people are exempt.

Consultations with British doctors are free. So is hospital treatment. There is a small charge of 37 cents for medicines. Glasses and false teeth are available at a fraction of the open market price.

Under NHS, these services are available to all, but special care of the aged is still a concern in Britain.

There is a bill before Parli-

ment, sponsored by Conservative MP Geoffrey Johnson Smith, designed to give local authorities the right to provide meals for old folks in their homes at a minimal charge.

"The bill would keep hundreds of old people out of hospitals and relieve the shortage of hospital beds for general use," says Smith. Feminine Influence Considered

It was not a blow for freedom that President Kennedy struck the other evening when he abolished white ties and tails from the annual White House reception for foreign diplomats. Instead diplomats (male) were asked to wear (if you'll pardon the expression) business suits.

The occasion will not be improved by this departure from the formal to the semi-casual. A sense of occasion and the ability to dress properly for it are among the refinements of civilization.

"Casual," a word whose meaning is much abused these days, too often means slack and slovenly. In this context it is a short step from a business suit to a sports jacket.

And then there are the ladies, who have a sharp sense of occasion. They cannot be expected to welcome a social edict which automatically limits their personal finery to a cocktail dress and a minimum of costume jewelry.

In the past presidents, prime ministers, cabinet members and other prominent public personalities — not to ignore governors — wore that item of masculine sartorial magnificence, the silk hat, with morning suits on formal occasions.

No one doubted then that these men were leaders, that they were conscious of the dignity of office. The silk hat has almost expired, a victim of the modern motor car. It would require some acrobatic talent to climb into a modern car while wearing a silk hat, and still more to look dignified when inside.

The feminine influence, never to be underrated, may yet produce a reversal of this latest White House fashion note.

Those Who Cannot Adjust

By George Sokolsky

Herbert C. Holdridge, Brigadier General, U. S. Army (Retired), who signs himself, "Administrative," of the "Constitutional Provisional Government of the United States," sends out a lot of press material. Let me quote a paragraph from General Holdridge as a basis for discussion:

"Again the crimes against our people are plotted in the Vatican with the collaboration of Big Money, implemented through Outlaw Kennedy who rose to power by fraud. . . Kennedy, your (not our) Commander-in-Chief, involves us in blunder after blunder: the Cuban invasion; of Berlin, of Laos and Viet Nam; of the illegal mobilization of reservists for an undeclared, illegal war; of waging economic war against U. S. Steel and other industries of atomic testing resumption; of involvement in the Common Market of foreign nations pooling their bankruptcies to wage economic war against us; of the recommended betrayal of our military forces to the United Nations under control of enemies of our Constitution. . . Having no intelligence, he must, naturally blunder. He and his mentally retarded, 'Trigger-Happy' Irish, Roman Catholics 'Mafia' set the tune, and you generals and admirals dance the 'Twist', blindly without concern for your oath of allegiance to defend the Constitution. In the process you commit one overt act of treason after the other."

If such a paragraph were written by a Communist, as it well might be, it would be regarded as subversive. General Holdridge is entitled to his opinion. He is a citizen and is entitled to speak up in opposition to any official. He dislikes President Kennedy, principally because he is a Roman Catholic and has a rich father. General Holdridge is anti-Roman Catholic, which is his privilege. He believes:

"The 'prime movers' in these acts of violence, now as then, are the Pope and his hierarchy in Rome, and the International Big Money monopolists of Wall Street."

However, we are at war with Soviet Russia. Our civilization as well as our nation is imperiled by this war. There are Republicans as well as Democrats who are critical of President Kennedy, but when it comes to the safety of the country, most Americans stand shoulder to shoulder against the enemy. General Holdridge says: "You advance the conspiracy to create the 'enemy' Communism, knowing full well that a potential 'enemy' was necessary to justify wars and war spending to keep the economy alive, and that had not Communism existed, another 'enemy' must necessarily be created for the purpose."

This is not good talk. This gives the impression that Communism is not an enemy; that even Soviet Russia is not an enemy; that the enemy of the American people is the American government. This has no foundation in fact. It has no meaning in American life. And yet, General Holdridge is not to be ignored, for he has a following, as there is discontent in the land, particularly among older people, who cannot adjust themselves to changes.

Inez Robb made a point in her quarrel with a hotel man in Arizona that some people cannot cope with the 20th Century. Surely that does not mean that the 20th Century is good or bad, better or worse, than the 12th or the 18th. It is here and it is making its own peculiar history.

There are those in this country who find the middle of the 20th Century a muddle and they cannot adjust their minds and habits to the results of a deep depression and three wars. They cannot grasp the consequences of the Marxist Revolution, of Keynesian economics, of the development of atomic energy and of the new concepts in chemistry, physics, in medicine and psychiatry.

The youngsters know much about these developments because they are being taught very differently than we were taught. Their world is wider and deeper than ours was. Imagine what it did to a child of 10 or 11 to have gone through the experience of watching John Glenn orbit the Earth. To such a child, the Earth has become very small. Before his eyes he saw the lights of Perth, Australia, light up in a tribute to the smallness of the world.

When that child reaches manhood, he will think differently than we do. He will look upon Pakistan as just a round the corner and he will probably serve a period of conscription at the North Pole or on the Khyber Pass.

Some Jumps to Conclusions

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions:

Nervous tension is one of the leading ailments of civilization. But eight out of 10 people would feel less tense if they'd simply get one more hour of sleep a night, walk a mile more a day in the open air—and worry a third as much about the other fellow's problems as they do their own.

All my life I've heard about kids earning their way into the circus by carrying water to the elephants, but I've never met one who did.

Some men pride themselves on the number of keys they carry on their key ring; actually, the fewer things you have to look up the happier you probably are.

The most boring jobs I can think of offhand are driving a bus, or being a professional hockey player, politician or movie star.

The fellow who first conceived the idea of serving cocktail canapés didn't invent stomach trouble—but he gave it a great big push forward.

If you have to tip the headwaiter to get a seat in a good restaurant, either it really isn't a very good restaurant—or you don't be long there.

Have you already made out your Christmas shopping list? If so, your life is probably too well planned for enjoyment.

Did you ever notice that when you get the hiccups or a lame back, everybody knows a sure cure? But if you get a gum boil nobody ever heard of a remedy.

A man often will spend his last penny during a night out on the town. A woman always comes home with some money left in her pocketbook.

The men who whistle most at pretty girls going by are construction workers at lunch time.

Most girls don't seem particularly thrilled by muscular men who do handstands at the beach to attract attention.

As soon as a teen-age daughter is old enough to be of real help to her mother in the kitchen, she suddenly finds other interests.

An independent girl is one who insists on buying her own cigarettes while out on a date, but whoever met one that independent?

A born cheapskate is the guy who always drinks highballs faster at your house than he serves them in his own.

The surest sign of a woman's age is how she sits down. If instead of seating herself gracefully, her legs suddenly let go and down she goes—kerflop!—with a quick sigh of relief, she's been out of high school a long, long time.

Noted Chillicothe Author Dies at 89

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP)—Funeral services will be held here Wednesday for Burton E. Stevenson, noted author and founder of the American Library of Paris during World War I.

Stevenson, 89, died at his home here after serving for 58 years as Chillicothe's public librarian.

Stevenson, a Princeton graduate, turned out a steady flow of books starting in 1900. They included fiction and ranged over a number of topics. His most successful efforts were his series of Home Books of quotations and proverbs.

His best known novel, "The Boule Cabinet," was twice made into a movie and once was dramatized in a Broadway play called "In the Next Room."

Inside You and Yours

By BURON H. FERN, M. D.

Fred's tummy quivered. His bed shook and rattled! Yet, he seemed well.

He had supersonic hiccups — diaphragm muscle spasms, occurring hundreds of times a minute. Doctors call this "diaphragmatic flutter."

Starting high in the neck, the diaphragm muscles descend, dragging their nerves like elevator cables overhead. On each side, they form a muscular dome, roofing over the abdomen.

Tightening the diaphragm flattens the dome and draws in air. Like hiccups, diaphragm flutter may be small or large, silent or noisy, visible or invisible. You can often hear stomach contents swishing around.

Fred felt like a limp handshake. A sharp pain resembled a knife piercing chest and abdomen deep beneath his breastbone.

Doctors thought he had had a heart attack. But heart attacks don't jostle beds and wriggle stomachs. And doctors could see his fluttering diaphragm on the fluoroscope screen.

Diaphragm nerves share common roots with many others. An irritated heart, lung, stomach or gall bladder can trigger flutters and hiccups. So can a cracked breastbone or extra rib.

Fred recovered before anyone could pinpoint the cause. Tincture of time — judicious neglect — is often the best remedy. If you don't grow spastic, diaphragm spasms should fade.

Everyone has a pet cure — irritate the nostrils with smelling salts or use feathers as ancient Greeks did.

Rest on your back. Drink sips of warm water. Soothe stomach irritation with bicarbonate.

Give yourself carbon dioxide inhalation without a fancy apparatus that's crowded with shiny knobs and dials. Simply hold your breath. Or breathe in and out of a paper bag.

Doctors hardly ever have to resort to numbing injections and nerve-crushing operations to paralyze flutters and hiccups.

Don't let flutter frighten you. A vibrating diaphragm can still work perfectly. No one has trouble breathing.

Chances are you'll never encounter a sonic boom like Fred's. Hiccups hardly ever break the sound barrier!

The Business World

EDITOR'S NOTE — Can the split between the Kennedy administration and much of the business community be healed? In this, second of three self-contained articles, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, tells what Chicago executives say would do the trick.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
CHICAGO (AP)—Many business leaders in the Chicago area would like to bury the hatchet and work in better harmony with the Kennedy administration—even if most think this is a pretty long chance just now.

"Government and business are partners and need each other," pops up again and again in interviews with Chicago's top men in industry and trade. Usually it is said with wonderment that relations got out of hand so fast in the battle between the President and the steel companies over the short-lived price rise.

Austin T. Cushman, who just became chairman of Sears, Roebuck, says both sides should work for a better business-government climate so the nation can do its best and achieve the economic growth goals.

Charles H. Kellstadt, retiring Sears chairman, says: "All groups—government, business, labor—must be more temperate in words and actions. All must consider carefully before making statements or taking actions. It is vital to our economy that we maintain our free enterprise system."

"Ours is a business economy. And I'm sure the President is aware of that. There should be no penalizing of business as such, or of business as such, or of the desire and need of making a profit."

Kellstadt brushes aside many of the more extreme fears now expressed for the immediate future of business, such as the tremors in the stock market following the steel price clash, with the assertion: "In my opinion our economy is sound—if they all just quit tampering with it."

President Kennedy wins applause from at least one business leader for his attempt to halt a new wage-price spiral.

Ross D. Siragusa, chairman of Admiral Corp., says the President was right in championing the public interest. The head of the electronics and electrical appliance firm says he feels sure the President wants business to prosper and thinks fighting inflation is the right way to achieve it. "This wage-price spiral should have been halted long ago. The President is right in telling both business and labor to moderate their price or wage demands if these are going to start up inflation again," Siragusa says.

Most business executives interviewed feel that the chances of much coming out of the White House Conference on National Economic Issues, May 21-22, have been lessened by the flare-up between government and business.

But a Chicago member of the President's Labor Management Advisory Committee thinks otherwise.

Joseph L. Block, chairman of Inland Steel, the company that cracked the steel price boost line, says one of the big troubles all along is: "The three elements in our economy—government, business, labor—usually talk only to themselves. Mostly they don't know what the others are saying."

"The President's conference should let each side see how the other side thinks. Also it will let the public see what the issues really are. All this could help."

Wednesday: How's business in the Midwest?

JFK, Business Gulf Narrows

NEW YORK (AP)—The gulf between the Kennedy administration and big business appears to be narrowing.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon advised the Business Council, meeting in Hot Springs, Va., that liberalization of tax depreciation write-offs will be ordered soon.

This is expected to bring an estimated 1962 tax saving of $1.25 billion to businessmen.

Industrialists have been clamoring for greater depreciation credit so they can expand and modernize plants.

Roger M. Blough, chairman of U.S. Steel Corp. and chairman of the Business Council, called the action very important in restoring confidence in business and improving government-business relations.

Blough said Dillon's message, delivered to the council by Treasury Undersecretary Henry H. Fowler, was very well-received by the 100 corporation heads who make up the group.

President Kennedy and Blough were the main adversaries in the fight in which Kennedy forced a roll-back of a steel price increase initiated by Blough.

Since then the Kennedy administration has been accused of being antibusiness.

In another development during the week, organized labor got the word from Kennedy that he expects wages as well as profits to hold the noninflation line.

He told the United Auto Workers convention in Atlantic City, N.J.: "Unjustified wage demands which require price increases are equally as contrary to the national interest as unjustified profit demands which require price increases."

The President carried his battle against inflation one step further a reverberation from his successful battle to overthrow a steel price increase continued.

And it was a week in which the Labor Department reported unemployment declined by 400,000 and employment increased 700,000 in April.

Stockholders of the New York Central and Pennsylvania railroads approved merger of the two giant systems.

In his Atlantic City speech, Kennedy praised the UAW for what he said the administration considers a noninflationary settlement with the automobile industry last year, but said, "The same responsibility for a noninflationary and peaceful settlement applies both to you and to management in your forthcoming negotiations in the aircraft and missile industries."

UAW President Walter P. Reuther had said earlier that wages should rise faster than productivity at least for the present.

Heads of two big steel companies persisted in their stand that steel price increases are needed to enable the producers to modernize and remain competitive.

Blough, who initiated the $6-a-ton increase last month only to wilt under government pressure, defended his action at the annual stockholders meeting.

He called for harmony between government and business but said it is "incomprehensible" that "government can ever serve the national interest in peacetime by seeking to control prices."

Republic Steel Corp.'s president, T. F. Patton, told his annual meeting that the company "still needs a price increase—as competitive factors permit."

Under questioning at his news conference, Kennedy denied that, in his anger, over the steel price increase, he had made a scorching remark about "all businessmen." He meant it just for some steel industry executives, he said, adding, "That is all past. Now we are working together, I hope."

In other presidential actions affecting business, Kennedy defended his plan for tax withholding on dividends and interest and asked Congress for standby authority to cut individual income taxes temporarily by as much as $10 billion a year to minimize future recessions.

Automobile production spurted during this week to its highest level of the year—an estimated 157,000 passenger cars. This was 2.2 per cent above the previous high of 153,614 in the week ended April 28. It compared with 149,582 last week and 129,530 in the like week of 1960.

Steel output during the week fell for the fifth consecutive week and major producers indicated further cuts are to come. Production was down to 1,820,000 tons, which represented about 60.5 per cent of the industry's estimated capacity.

Sales on the New York Stock Exchange for the latest week were 18,419,640 shares compared with 19,370,710 the week before. Bond sales on the exchange for the latest week totaled $35,783,000 (par value) against $33,243,000 a week earlier.

Waiters Assured Of 12 Pct. Tips

NEW YORK (AP)—Diners at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel were without service for a couple of hours Sunday night while the management and 450 waiters argued in the kitchen about tips.

The principal inconvenience was experienced by 1,200 grand ballroom guests at a fund-raising dinner. A master of ceremonies passed some of the time by telling jokes.

The waiters, members of Hotel & Club Employees' Local 6, wanted 12 per cent of the bill as a tip. They claimed the management wanted them to pass the plate for what they could get.

The waiters, who claimed it was guaranteed in a recent arbitration decision, got the 12 per cent—plus a signed statement from the management that there would be no reprisals.

Feminine Influence Considered

It was not a blow for freedom that President Kennedy struck the other evening when he abolished white ties and tails from the annual White House reception for foreign diplomats. Instead diplomats (male) were asked to wear (if you'll pardon the expression) business suits.

The occasion will not be improved by this departure from the formal to the semi-casual. A sense of occasion and the ability to dress properly for it are among the refinements of civilization.

"Casual," a word whose meaning is much abused these days, too often means slack and slovenly. In this context it is a short step from a business suit to a sports jacket.

And then there are the ladies, who have a sharp sense of occasion. They cannot be expected to welcome a social edict which automatically limits their personal finery to a cocktail dress and a minimum of costume jewelry.

In the past presidents, prime ministers, cabinet members and other prominent public personalities — not to ignore governors — wore that item of masculine sartorial magnificence, the silk hat, with morning suits on formal occasions.

No one doubted then that these men were leaders, that they were conscious of the dignity of office. The silk hat has almost expired, a victim of the modern motor car. It would require some acrobatic talent to climb into a modern car while wearing a silk hat, and still more to look dignified when inside.

The feminine influence, never to be underrated, may yet produce a reversal of this latest White House fashion note.

Those Who Cannot Adjust

By George Sokolsky

Herbert C. Holdridge, Brigadier General, U. S. Army (Retired), who signs himself, "Administrator" of the "Constitutional Provisional Government of the United States," sends out a lot of press material. Let me quote a paragraph from General Holdridge as a basis for discussion:

"Again the crimes against our people are plotted in the Vatican with the collaboration of Big Money, implemented through Outlaw Kennedy who rose to power by fraud. . . Kennedy, your (not our) Commander-in-Chief, involves us in blunder after blunder: the Cuban invasion; of Berlin, of Laos and Viet Nam; of the illegal mobilization of reservists for an undeclared, illegal war; of waging economic war against U. S. Steel and other industries of atomic testing resumption; of involvement in the Common Market of foreign nations pooling their bankruptcies to wage economic war against us; of the recommended betrayal of our military forces to the United Nations under control of enemies of our Constitution. . . Having no intelligence, he must, naturally blunder. He must, mentally retarded, 'Trigger-Happy' Irish, Roman Catholics 'Mafia' set the tune, and you generals and admirals dance the 'Twist', blindly without concern for your oath of allegiance to defend the Constitution. In the process you commit one overt act of treason after the other."

If such a paragraph were written by a Communist, as it well might be, it would be regarded as subversive. General Holdridge is entitled to his opinion. He is a citizen and is entitled to speak up in opposition to any official. He dislikes President Kennedy, principally because he is a Roman Catholic and has a rich father. General Holdridge is anti-Roman Catholic, which is his privilege. He believes:

"The 'prime movers' in these acts of violence, now as then, are the Pope and his hierarchy in Rome, and the International Big Money monopolists of Wall Street."

However, we are at war with Soviet Russia. Our civilization as well as our nation is imperiled by this war. There are Republicans as well as Democrats who are critical of President Kennedy, but when it comes to the safety of the country, most Americans stand shoulder to shoulder against the enemy. General Holdridge says: "You advance the conspiracy to create the 'enemy' Communism, knowing full well that a potential 'enemy' was necessary to justify wars and war spending to keep the economy alive, and that had not Communism existed, another 'enemy' must necessarily be created for the purpose."

This is not good talk. This gives the impression that Communism is not an enemy; that even Soviet Russia is not an enemy; that the enemy of the American people is the American government.

This has no foundation in fact. It has no meaning in American life. And yet, General Holdridge is not to be ignored, for he has a following, as there is discontent in the land, particularly among older people, who cannot adjust themselves to changes.

Inez Robb made a point in her quarrel with a hotel man in Arizona that some people cannot cope with the 20th Century. Surely that does not mean that the 20th Century is good or bad, better or worse, than the 12th or the 18th. It is here and it is making its own peculiar history.

There are those in this country who find the middle of the 20th Century a muddle and they cannot adjust their minds and habits to the results of a deep depression and three wars. They cannot grasp the consequences of the Marxist Revolution, of Keynesian economics, of the development of atomic energy and of the new concepts in chemistry, physics, in medicine and psychiatry.

The youngsters know much about these developments because they are being taught very differently than we were taught. Their world is wider and deeper than ours. Imagine what it did to a child of 10 or 11 to have gone through the experience of watching John Glenn orbit the Earth. To such a child, the Earth has become very small. Before his eyes he saw the lights of Perth, Australia, light up in a tribute to the smallness of the world.

When that child reaches manhood, he will think differently than we do. He will look upon Pakistan as just a round the corner and he will probably serve a period of conscription at the North Pole or on the Khyber Pass.

Some Jumps to Conclusions

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions:

Nervous tension is one of the leading ailments of civilization. But eight out of 10 people would feel less tense if they'd simply get one more hour of sleep a night, walk a mile more a day in the open air—and worry a third as much about the other fellow's problems as they do their own.

All my life I've heard about kids earning their way into the circus by carrying water for the elephants, but I've never met one who did.

Some men pride themselves on the number of keys they carry on their key ring; actually, the fewer things you have to look up the happier you probably are.

The most boring jobs I can think of offhand are driving a bus, or being a professional hockey player, politician or movie star. The fellow who first conceived the idea of serving cocktail canapés didn't invent stomach trouble—but he gave it a great big push forward.

If you have to tip the headwaiter, to get a seat in a good restaurant, either it really isn't a very good restaurant—or you don't be long there.

Have you already made out your Christmas shopping list? If so, your life is probably too well planned for enjoyment.

Did you ever notice that when you get the hiccups or a lame back, everybody knows a sure cure? But if you get a gum boil nobody ever heard of a remedy.

A man often will spend his last penny during a night out on the town. A woman always comes home with some money left in her pocketbook.

The men who whistle most at pretty girls going by are construction workers at lunch time.

Only really lonely people feed pigeons on rainy days.

Most girls don't seem particularly thrilled by muscular men who do handstands at the beach to attract attention.

As soon as a teen-age daughter is old enough to be of real help to her mother in the kitchen, she suddenly finds other interests.

An independent girl is one who insists on buying her own cigarettes while out on a date, but whoever met one that independent?

A born cheapskate is the guy who always drinks highballs faster at your house than he serves them in his own.

The surest sign of a woman's age is how she sits down. If instead of seating herself gracefully, her legs suddenly let go and down she goes—kerflop!—with a quick sigh of relief, she's been out of high school a long, long time.

Noted Chillicothe Author Dies at 89

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP)—Funeral services will be held here Wednesday for Burton E. Stevenson, noted author and founder of the American Library of Paris during World War I.

Stevenson, 89, died at his home here after serving for 58 years as Chillicothe's public librarian.

Stevenson, a Princeton graduate, turned out a steady flow of books starting in 1900. They included fiction and ranged over a number of topics. His most successful efforts were his series of Home Books of quotations and proverbs.

His best known novel, "The Boule Cabinet," was twice made into a movie and once was dramatized in a Broadway play called "In the Next Room."

Waiters Assured Of 12 Pct. Tips

NEW YORK (AP)—Diners at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel were without service for a couple of hours Sunday night while the management and 450 waiters argued in the kitchen about tips.

The principal inconvenience was experienced by 1,200 grand ballroom guests at a fund-raising dinner. A master of ceremonies passed some of the time by telling jokes.

The waiters, members of Hotel & Club Employees' Local 6, wanted 12 per cent of the bill as a tip. They claimed the management wanted them to pass the plate for what they could get.

The waiters, who claimed it was guaranteed in a recent arbitration decision, got the 12 per cent—plus a signed statement from the management that there would be no reprisals.

Showdown in Heated Battle Over Medicare Coming Soon

Editor's Note—How much help do American's aged require to meet their medical costs? Who should pay for it, and how? Those are the basic issues in the great medical care controversy with the President and the American Medical Association of opposing sides. Here's a comprehensive report of what the fight is all about.

By FRANK CAREY

Associated Press Science Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy this week turns up the heat in hopes of melting some congressional ice in the path of his program for medical care to the aged through Social Security. He is scheduled to participate Sunday in a Madison Square Garden rally in New York—the centerpiece of more than 30 meetings throughout the nation to drum up public support.

The administration's medical care, or King-Anderson, bill has been bottled up in a House committee. For many months now both sides in the controversy have been busy with hard sell campaigns to bring their message to every hamlet in the nation.

President Kennedy recently invited leaders of the American Medical Association (AMA), which spearheads the opposition, to a White House discussion. Neither President nor AMA budged an inch.

The King-Anderson bill would provide health insurance for the elderly through an increase in Social Security taxes. Whether it passes or not, it's almost certain to provide campaign ammunition for both parties in next fall's congressional elections. It would affect directly 14.2 million potential voters.

For the past year, the King-Anderson bill has been immobilized in the House Ways and Means Committee where it lacked the votes needed to bring it to the House floor for debate and action.

The 25-member committee held public hearings last summer, filling four volumes with contrasting and sometimes vituperative testimony.

Exactly what are the provisions of the King-Anderson bill? What health plans are available to the elderly right now? What are some of the alternative plans proposed in an out of Congress? What's the case for and against King-Anderson?

Let's consider these questions in sequence.

The Bill

It would provide certain types of medical care for all people 65 or older who are entitled to monthly benefits under Social Security or railroad retirement systems.

Those eligible would get:

Inpatient hospital service for up to 90 days—after they have paid the first $10 a day for up to nine days and after they have paid a minimum of $20. The minimum would discourage persons from entering hospitals unnecessarily.

Skilled nursing home services for up to 180 days provided the patient first is treated in a hospital. Outpatient hospital diagnostic services—after the patient has paid the first $20 of the charge for each diagnostic study.

Home health services for up to 240 visits during a calendar year, including intermittent nursing care, therapy and part-time "home-maker" services.

Not covered under King-Anderson would be physicians' and dentists' fees, the cost of drugs and certain other health items.

The health services would be financed by an increase in Social Security taxes in this manner:

The taxable earnings base (that is, the part of your salary on which you pay social security taxes) would be raised from the present $4,800 to $5,200.

Payroll contributions from the employer and the employee would be raised 1/4 of 1 per cent and from the self-employed 1/4 of 1 per cent, beginning in 1963.

For example, a person earning $200 a year would contribute $13 a year to the health insurance fund and so would his boss—a total of $26 a year.

Health Plans—Present, Proposed

What health plans are available to elderly persons right now?

The Kerr-Mills law, in effect since October, 1960, provides a wider range of benefits (including physicians' and dentists' fees) for fewer people than King-Anderson.

The bill was co-authored by Rep. Wilbur Mills (D-Ark.) and Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla.). Mills is chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Kerr-Mills provides financial aid through federal-state funds for persons 65 and over who do not qualify for old age assistance yet are unable to pay medical bills. These are the "medically indigent."

The states lay down the rules for the programs and the federal government pays from 50 to 80 per cent of the cost.

Aid is available only to persons whose incomes do not exceed $1,800 a year or $2,800 for a couple. Recipients are required to pass a test of means.

The extent of services varies among the participating states. For example, some offer nursing home care; others don't. Some include dental care, others don't.

Rico and the Virgin Islands, have Kerr-Mills programs. The legislature of a dozen others have them under consideration.

When Kerr-Mills went into effect, it was estimated it would cost about $142 million in federal funds during the first full years of operation and some 2.4 million persons would benefit.

During the first nine months of operation, the latest period for which full figures are available, the program had total expenditures of $42,889,000, including $21,355,000 in federal funds, $14,377,000 in state funds and $7,167,000 in local outlays.

Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois says the Kerr-Mills program "is moving along tolerably well and it should do the job when we get the bugs out of it."

But Sen. Clinton M. Anderson (D-NM), co-author with Rep. Cecil King (D-Calif.) of King-Anderson, says the Kerr-Mills program "has not been doing the job we hoped it would."

"The program is," he says, "that the states lack the financial capacity to make Kerr-Mills really adequate."

While 25 states and territories have put the program in effect, says Anderson, 92 per cent of the benefits are being paid in three states, New York, Massachusetts and Michigan.

Rep. Thomas B. Curtis (R-Mo.), an opponent of King-Anderson, charged last fall that some supporters of the measure were waging an "undercover campaign" to denigrate the Kerr-Mills Act.

West Virginia blew up a storm over Kerr-Mills last fall.

On Nov. 28, the West Virginia welfare department announced sharp cutbacks in its program and a tightening of eligibility requirements. The department said a financial emergency existed.

Welfare Secretary Abraham Ribicoff referred to the development as "news indicating that West Virginia is going broke under Kerr-Mills."

Then the West Virginia legislature approved $1.3 million in Kerr-Mills funds for the fiscal year beginning in July, roughly half the amount previously appropriated.

The West Virginia Medical Association called the action a new vote of confidence in Kerr-Mills and its president, Dr. D.E. Greenelch, accused opponents of making "political hay out of the situation."

Two voluntary, non-profit health insurance plans for the aged have been proposed by the AMA and the American Hospital Association (AOHA).

They were announced within a few days of each other last January, leading Rep. King to comment that it looked like a desperate move to defeat the King-Anderson bill.

The APHA plan, which would operate in conjunction with Blue Cross, would be partly financed by the federal government but the program would be under private control.

Its sponsors say the program would provide hospitalization, nursing home care and certain other services at very low cost—or free to those unable to pay.

Blue Cross officials estimate the minimum premiums might run from $10 to $12 a month per person.

The AMA plan, in cooperation with Blue Shield, would cover surgery, X-rays, some hospital or nursing home visits by doctors and other services. It would not seek any federal subsidy.

It would be available to single persons over 65 with an annual income of $2,500 or less and to married couples with incomes of $4,000 or less. Estimated cost of premiums: as low as $3 a month per person.

Aynother non-profit plan, advanced by the Alleghany chapter of the National Physicians' Guild, Inc., a group of Pittsburgh doctors, would be based partly on the Kerr-Mills law.

It would employ federal and state funds to be used either as direct payments for medical care costs or to pay premiums. Indigents would have the entire premium paid from government funds.

Others would pay a graded percentage of the premium "until the self-sufficiency point, where the individual would pay the entire premium."

Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY), a for of King-Anderson, has proposed in a Senate bill a comprehensive plan that would be financed partly through Social Security and partly through federal funds.

As an added feature, the Javits plan would enable the government to reimburse elderly patients for their private health insurance plans. This, says Javits, would stimulate the growth of private plans.

Another bill, offered by Rep. Frank T. Bow (R-Ohio) and especially favored by Republicans, would cover the elderly on a voluntary basis with premiums up to $125 per person credited against his or her federal income taxes.

The Health Insurance Institute counts more than 136 million persons—about three-quarters of the population—as covered by some form of private health insurance plans.

It figures that approximately 53 per cent of the non-institutionalized aged over 65 had some form of voluntary health insurance at the end of 1961 and that the elderly are buying it at a faster rate than any other segment of the population.

The institution says 1,300 organizations are in the health insurance business, including some 880 insurance companies, 78 blue cross plans, 69 blue shield plans and more than 300 independent plans in industry, community and college.

Case for King-Anderson

What arguments have been advanced in favor of King-Anderson? President Kennedy has put it this way:

"Among those of use how are 65—16 million today in the United States—go to the hospital more often and stay longer than their younger neighbors.

"Their physical activity is limited by six times as much disability as the rest of the population.

"Their annual medical bill is twice that of persons under 65—but their income is only half as high."

"Today, only about half our aged population has any health insurance of any kind—and most of these have insufficient coverage.

"This program, of course, would not interfere in any way with the freedom of choice of doctor, hospital or nurse.

"It would not specify in any way the kind of medical or health care or treatment to be provided."

Proponents of King-Anderson say current plans, including Kerr-Mills, are inadequate.

"No commercial carrier, either singly or in groups," says Rep. King, "can give the great majority of the older people what they need for what they can afford to pay."

As to the effectiveness of Kerr-Mills, says Sen. Anderson, only 1/4 of 1 per cent of the nation's 16 million people 65 and older so far are receiving help under its provisions.

Case against King-Anderson
Opponents, led by the AMA contend the plan would be a start toward socialized medicine which would endanger professional freedom and lower medical standards.

Dr. Leonard W. Laars of Bismarck, N.D., president of the AMA which claims 180,000 doctor-members, says King-Anderson would make the secretary of health and welfare "literally the czar of American medicine."

Foes also assert that King-Anderson would cost $5.4 billion annually by 1968, compared with the Kennedy administration's estimate of $2.5 billion by 1960.

Opponents also say they doubt that the economic status of the aged is as tough as painted by supporters of King-Anderson.

"In many respects," says the AMA, "the aged are better off than any other group.

"Their liquid assets are higher and have risen faster than any age group.

"Hospitals report they have less difficulty obtaining payment from patients over 65 than from younger patients."

Rep. Curtis maintains current plans are adequate to care for the aged. He has inserted in the congressional record what he called a comprehensive list of "guaranteed lifetime health insurance programs" now available. The list took 10 pages.

"It is a tragedy," says Curtis, "that the department of health, education and welfare does not help in disseminating the good news of the health insurance that is available in our society so that our people can avail themselves of it."

The Outlook

Both sides have conducted vigorous campaigns looking toward the approaching showdown in Congress.

Last year, the AMA financed a pamphlet called "Socialized Medicine and You," designed for mailing by doctors to their patients. Posters carrying the same message were hung in doctor's offices. Physicians were exhorted to write their congressmen.

At least 20 state medical societies are planning to send representatives to Washington to voice their opposition to King-Anderson.

On the other hand, a special task force led by Assistant Secretary of Health, Welfare, and Education Wilbur J. Cohen has been gathering all available information favorable to the bill as ammunition to use before Congress.

Last week House Speaker John McCormack (D. Mass.) expressed optimism about the bill's chances in the House. He said congressional return from their Easter vacation reported public sentiment was overwhelmingly in favor of the plan.

Dr. Lawson, AMA president, contends on the other hand that more and more people, including elderly citizens, are switching from support to opposition.

Congressional observers generally believe the prospects for the bill's release for floor action by the Ways and Means Committee have brightened in the past few weeks.

In any case, Democratic leaders in the Senate have made it plain that they plan to offer King-Anderson as an amendment to a House measure on the Senate floor if the House should fail to send a medical care bill to the Senate this year.

And Rep. King says that if the Ways and Means Committee should fail to clear the measure for floor action he'll file a discharge petition to bring it out. This is a rarely-used device requiring approval of a majority (219) members of the full House.

Now administration strategists figure public pressure might swing a few crucial vote in Ways and Means—one reason why the President, a recognized political charmer, is stepping in personally.

Guards' Release Still Scheduled

WASHINGTON (AP)—No consideration is being given to delaying release in August of 145,000 Reserves and National Guardsmen because of the new crisis in Laos, Defense Department sources said Monday.

President Kennedy announced a month ago that Reserves and Guardsmen called into uniform during the Berlin crisis last fall would be sent home in August unless there is a serious deterioration in the international situation in the meantime.

All the armed forces have made detailed plans to demobilize their citizen soldiers during August.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath." Area Couple Feted on 60th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Crites, Stoutsville, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary Saturday, with a family dinner at the Pickaway Arms.

The table was an attractive scene with a centerpiece of yellow roses and pink snapdragons and a cake decorated with three candles, representing the past, present and future.

In addition to the guests of honor or those present were their daughter and son-in-law, the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Sheely, Hanover, Pa., their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson A. Crites and their grandson, Allen, Columbus, their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Leckie Jr., Dearborn, Mich.

Mrs. Crites was the former Blanche Stout. The couple was married in Stoutsville in 1902 by the Rev. J. D. Neff, pastor of Heidelberg Reformed Church.

WHAT IS SO RARE AS AN ORCHID IN MAY—A rare Japanese orchid was added to Shaw's Garden collection in St. Louis several years ago and an unusual meteorological event caused it to bloom for the first time a few days ago. Fritz W. Went, director of the garden, said the orchid, called the "Dove," blooms only nine days after a sudden sharp drop in the temperature—and that is exactly what happened. Club Enjoys Outing in Pickaway Woods

Members and guests of the Circleville Junior Garden Club enjoyed a Saturday outing in the woods of Pickaway Twp.

There were 25 members and three guests present. The guests were Susan Marshall, Ruth Garner and Patricia Schleich.

Floyd Bartley, noted local botanist, conducted the tour. He identified many wild flowers, including jack-in-the-pulpit, golden squaw flower, buttercup and Solomon Seal. Of special interest were paw-paw, red bud, dogwood and May apples in full bloom.

After a sack lunch Mr. Bartley described the parts of plants to the children before the final tour. Two land turtles were discovered to the delight of the group.

Transportation for the event was provided by Mrs. Walter Garner, Mrs. Roy Marshall, Mrs. Harry Kern, Mrs. Howard Smith and Mrs. Donald Watt.

The next meeting of the club will be in June. The date and place will be announced later.

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren The Perfect Squelch!

DEAR ABBY: Why is it that so many people who would not think of eating peas with their knives think it is all right to ask my elderly mother how old she is? This seems to be their first question after making her acquaintance, no matter how casual the relationship. It is an annoyance to her. Will you please print a suitable answer to this bold and presumptuous question.

HER DAUGHTER
DEAR DAUGHTER: A fit reply to a bold and presumptuous question would be: If you will forgive me not answering, I will forgive you for asking."

DEAR ABBY: Would you please tell me the true, up-to-date meaning when a boy gives a girl his fraternity pin? I have been going with this boy for quite some time now and he wants to give me his fraternity pin. My parents say it means you are engaged to be married yet, they won't let me accept it. The boy says it means we are going steady—not engaged. Please print your answer.

ALMOST PINNED
DEAR ALMOST: I don't know what it means on other campuses, but a California, Colorado, Illinois, Oklahoma and Iowa it means you are "engaged" to be engaged. A fraternity pin these days rarely sticks one for life.

DEAR ABBY: To the "Other Woman" who has never lied or cheated on "her man" for 5 years and expects to have him for her husband some day:

I am the wife of such a man. He will cheat every chance he gets. Madame, you have a few facts to learn. A man who cheats on his wife never stops. His wife is not ignorant of his behavior, but is too much a lady to bring disgrace on her family. She would rather have people think her stupid than to let her children know what an immoral, spineless heel their father is. Unless his wife succumbs of a broken heart, you will never get him. And if you do, you have my sympathy.

THE WIFE

DEAR ABBY: Our son is about to become engaged. Is it our place to invite the parents of the girl to our home first? Or should the parents of the girl invite us to their home first?

MUST KNOW SOON
DEAR MUST: The parents of the girl should invite the parents of the boy to their home first. But in case the girl's parents are not aware of this, you would be wise to extend the first invitation to them. Don't stand on ceremonies where the happiness of your children is concerned.

How's the world treating you? For a personal unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

Area Couple Feted on 60th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Crites, Stoutsville, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary Saturday, with a family dinner at the Pickaway Arms.

The table was an attractive scene with a centerpiece of yellow roses and pink snapdragons and a cake decorated with three candles, representing the past, present and future.

In addition to the guests of honor those present were their daughter and son-in-law, the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Sheely, Hanover, Pa., their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson A. Crites and their grandson, Allen, Columbus, their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Leckie Jr., Dearborn, Mich.

Mrs. Crites was the former Blanche Stout. The couple was married in Stoutsville in 1902 by the Rev. J. D. Neff, pastor of Heidelberg Reformed Church.

The honored guests received numerous gifts, including a white orchid corsage, white carnation boutonniere and a rocking chair of their choice from their children.

Russian Cage Tour Studied

Red Team May Crack U.S. Amateur Squabble

NEW YORK (AP) — Towering Russians traveling through the country, whipping American basketball teams, while this nation's best players are sitting on the sidelines.

That's the picture that is shaping up today, as the battle for control of amateur sports in the country daily grows more bitter.

The Russians could well be the ones that crack it wide open. They are due in November for a series of games in this country. Instead of playing the country's top college teams, they are likely to face some rag-tag pickup clubs.

The resulting furor could extend clear to the White House. It will affect U.S. chances in the 1964 Olympics, and the outcome of the fight will shape U.S. athletic policies for many years to come.

The Amateur Athletic Union, which is handling the Russian tour, said it had asked the colleges to let their top teams play the Russians, during the November tour, but had been refused. Col. Don Hull, the AAU's executive director, said November was an awkward month, but that the time was selected by the Russians, through the State Department, and there was nothing he can do about it.

Walter Byers, for the NCAA, pointed out that college rules forbid teams playing before Dec. 1.

"I can not accept placing the blame for the timing of the Russian trip on the State Department. It is another example of poor management of the AAU," Byers said.

"It would take a convention to change our rules to let our teams play in November, and the AAU didn't ask us in time for the convention."

Both sides agreed there was a possibility that individual collegians might be able to play on an all-star-type team against the Russians, but each appeared to be waiting for the other side to make the first move.

Houston Proves Nemesis for Mays

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — San Francisco Giants star Willie Mays had a new experience when he came to Houston for three games with the Houston Colts. He couldn't hit the ball.

He made 13 tries but managed only one hit and walked once.

"I can't see the ball," Mays said with a frown.

Players with other teams also have complained about Colt Stadium lighting. It is the minimum allowed in National League parks.

The lights may not be the only thing troubling Mays, however. He got his lone hit under the lights. Sunday afternoon he went to the plate four times and walked away hitless.

Indian Swap For Kindall Is Paying Off

CLEVELAND (AP)—It's agreed now that Cleveland general manager Gabe Paul made a tremendous deal last November when he traded pitcher Bobby Locke to the Chicago Cubs for second baseman Jerry Kindall.

Kindall is one of the big differences between the 1961 Cleveland team and the current Indians, who lead the American League by a half game over the New York Yankees.

The 26-year-old native of Minnesota has provided the Tribe with superb fielding and, surprisingly, solid hitting. Kindall is batting .277, although his lifetime average is only .217.

Even more important, Kindall is hitting in the clutch—especially against New York, whom the Indians have beaten five out of seven times.

Against the Yanks, Kindall is swinging at a .385 pace, with eight of his 14 runs batted in coming against the world champions.

It's difficult to understand how the Cubs and the rest of the National League let Kindall get away.

"I was surprised at the trade myself," Kindall declared. "It turns out to be the best thing that could have happened to me."

Redleg Mound Staff Shows Its Weakness

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Powerful pitching was supposed to be the Cincinnati Reds' ace card this year. But it's beginning to look like there are trouble spots, especially among the second-stringers.

Before the Reds current five-game streak, Manager Fred Hutchinson expressed his worry bluntly, saying, "I can't remember the last time I saw pitching as bad as we've had this spring."

He said Bob Purkey (6-0) was the only starter who looked well consistently this season. "The rest have been wild and ineffective," he said.

Howie Nunn, in a relief role, had trouble with the Washington Senators in an exhibition game in the nation's capital Monday night. He walked in the winning run in the 13th inning, giving Washington a 5-4 decision.

Nunn walked 11 Senators in the 5-1-3 innings he worked. After two hits in the 13th, he passed Jim King on purpose, but the strategy didn't work out. A walk to Ken Retzer forced in the deciding run.

The Reds moved on after the game to Philadelphia, where they have three games scheduled against the Phillies, starting tonight.

Joey Jay (4-3) was scheduled to start for the Reds. Art Mahaffey (2-4) was named to oppose him.

Denison Golfers Cop League Title

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—Denison University won its third Ohio Conference golf championship in the last four years when the Big Red topped defending champion Akron by six strokes in the conference tournament Monday.

Led by medalist Bill Pultz' one-over-par 71 72-143, Denison set a record low score in the tournament. The four lowscoring Big Red golfers on their five-man team totaled 607 strokes.

Behind Akron's 613 were: Wittenberg and Ohio Wesleyan with 631, Capital 655, Oberlin 657, Otterbein 664, Kenyon 668, Wooster 669, Marietta 676, Muskingum 690, Hiram 693, Baldwin-Wallace and Heidelberg 699 and Mount Union 702.

Tigers Down MT For 3rd SCO Win

By STEVE JONES

The Circleville Tigers downed the Miami Trace Panthers, southeastern district baseball champs, 10-1, yesterday at Bloomingsburg behind an eight hit attack and the stellar pitching of Sam Weller.

Skip Lutz led the Roundtown onslaught, collecting two hits in four trips to the batters box. The Tiger slugger batted in four runs and scored two. Garold Dade was two-for-three.

Weller, who has proven to be a good clutch hitter for Circleville, banged a homerun to aid his own cause. He was two for four at the plate, had three RBIs and scored one run. His homer was the only extra base hit for the Tigers.

Weller went the route for Circleville. He allowed five hits, gave up two bases on balls and fanned six Trace batters. It was his sixth win for the season against two losses.

ONE OF his defeats was a 1-0 game the Tigers dropped at Pleasant View. He allowed only three hits in that tilt and Pleasant View scored its lone run on an error.

The other loss was at Logan where he relieved Dade in Dade's only start on the mound for the Tigers. Circleville's overall record, including tournament play, stands at 13-2. In the SCO league the Tigers have downed Greenfield, Hillsboro and Miami Trace, and have lost to Pleasant View for a 3-1 record. The Pleasant View nine is undefeated in circuit competition.

Ayres was the starting hurler for the Panthers. He went the route, striking out five, giving up eight walks and eight hits. He hit one batter.

Russian Cage Tour Studied

Red Team May Crack U.S. Amateur Squabble

NEW YORK (AP) — Towering Russians traveling through the country, whipping American basketball teams, while this nation's best players are sitting on the sidelines.

That's the picture that is shaping up today, as the battle for control of amateur sports in the country daily grows more bitter.

The Russians could well be the ones that crack it wide open. They are due in November for a series of games in this country. Instead of playing the country's top college teams, they are likely to face some rag-tag pickup clubs.

The resulting furor could extend clear to the White House. It will affect U.S. chances in the 1964 Olympics, and the outcome of the fight will shape U.S. athletic policies for many years to come.

The Amateur Athletic Union, which is handling the Russian tour, said it had asked the colleges to let their top teams play the Russians, during the November tour, but had been refused. Col. Don Hull, the AAU's executive director, said November was an awkward month, but that the time was selected by the Russians, through the State Department, and there was nothing he can do about it.

Walter Byers, for the NCAA, pointed out that college rules forbid teams playing before Dec. 1.

"I can not accept placing the blame for the timing of the Russian trip on the State Department. It is another example of poor management of the AAU," Byers said.

"It would take a convention to change our rules to let our teams play in November, and the AAU didn't ask us in time for the convention."

Both sides agreed there was a possibility that individual collegians might be able to play on an all-star-type team against the Russians, but each appeared to be waiting for the other side to make the first move.

Houston Proves Nemesis for Mays

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — San Francisco Giants star Willie Mays had a new experience when he came to Houston for three games with the Houston Astros. He couldn't hit the ball.

He made 13 tries but managed only one hit and walked once.

"I can't hit the ball," Mays said with a frown.

Players with other teams also have complained about Colt Stadium lighting. It is the minimum allowed in National League parks.

The lights may not be the only thing troubling Mays, however. He got his lone hit under the lights, Sunday afternoon he went to the plate four times and walked away hitless.

Indian Swap For Kindall Is Paying Off

Is Paying Off

CLEVELAND (AP) — It's agreed now that Cleveland general manager Gabe Paul made a tremendous deal last November when he traded pitcher Bobby Locke to the Chicago Cubs for second baseman Jerry Kindall.

Kindall is one of the big differences between the 1961 Cleveland team and the current Indians, who lead the American League by a half game over the New York Yankees.

The 26-year-old native of Minnesota has provided the Tribe with superb fielding and, surprisingly, solid hitting. Kindall is batting .277, although his lifetime average is only .217.

Even more important, Kindall is hitting in the clutch—especially against New York, whom the Indians have beaten five out of seven times.

Against the Yanks, Kindall is swinging at a .385 pace, with eight of his 14 runs batted in coming against the world champions.

It's difficult to understand how the Cubs and the rest of the National League let Kindall get away.

"I was surprised at the trade myself," Kindall declared. "It turns out to be the best thing that could have happened to me."

Redleg Mound Staff Shows Its Weakness

Its Weakness

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Powerful pitching was supposed to be the Cincinnati Reds' ace card this year. But it's beginning to look like there are trouble spots, especially among the second-stringers.

Before the Reds current five-game streak, Manager Fred Hutchinson expressed his worry bluntly, saying, "I can't remember the last time I saw pitching as bad as we've had this spring."

He said Bob Purkey (6-0) was the only starter who looked well consistently this season. "The rest have been wild and ineffective," he said.

Howie Nunn, in a relief role, had trouble with the Washington Senators in an exhibition game in the nation's capital Monday night. He walked in the winning run in the 13th inning, giving Washington a 5-4 decision.

Nunn walked 11 Senators in the 5-1-3 innings he worked. After two hits in the 13th, he passed Jim King on purpose, but the strategy didn't work out. A walk to Ken Retzer forced in the deciding run.

The Reds moved on after the game to Philadelphia, where they have three games scheduled against the Phillies, starting tonight.

Joeey Jay (4-3) was scheduled to start for the Reds. Art Mahaffey (2-4) was named to oppose him.

Denison Golfers Cop League Title

Cop League Title

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — Denison University won its third Ohio Conference golf championship in the last four years when the Big Red topped defending champion Akron by six strokes in the conference tournament Monday.

Led by medalist Bill Pultz' one-over-par 71 72-143, Denison set a record low score in the tourney. The four lowscoring Big Red golfers on their five-man team totaled 607 strokes.

Behind Akron's 613 were: Wittenberg and Ohio Wesleyan with 631, Capital 655, Oberlin 657, Otterbein 664, Kenyon 668, Wooster 669, Marietta 676, Muskingum 690, Hiram 693, Baldwin-Wallace and Heidelberg 699 and Mount Union 702.

Tigers Down MT For 3rd SCO Win

By STEVE JONES

The Circleville Tigers downed the Miami Trace Panthers, southern district baseball champs, 10-1, yesterday at Bloomsburg behind an eight hit attack and the stellar pitching of Sam Weller.

Skip Lutz led the Roundtown onslaught, collecting two hits in four trips to the batters box. The Tiger slugger batted in four runs and scored two. Garold Dade was two-for-three.

Weller, who has proven to be a good clutch hitter for Circleville, batted a homerun to aid his own cause. He was two for four at the plate, had three RBIs and scored one run. His homer was the only extra base hit for the Tigers.

Weller went the route for Circleville. He allowed five hits, gave up two bases on balls and fanned six Trace batters. It was his sixth win for the season against two losses.

ONE OF his defeats was a 1-0 game the Tigers dropped at Pleasant View. He allowed only three hits in that tilt and Pleasant View scored its lone run on an error.

The other loss was at Logan where he relieved Dade in Dade's only start on the mound for the Tigers.

Circleville's overall record, including tournament play, stands at 13-2. In the SCO league the Tigers have downed Greenfield, Hillsboro and Miami Trace, and have lost to Pleasant View for a 3-1 record.

The Pleasant View nine is undefeated in circuit competition.

Ayres was the starting hurler for the Panthers. He went the route, striking out five, giving up eight walks and eight hits. He hit one batter.

Trace, southeastern district champs, defeated favored Pomeroy for the title. The Panthers play in the regional tourney at Philo Friday.

The rest of league finished in the following order: CCA No. 2, fifth; Legion No. 1, sixth; Legion No. 2, seventh; CCA No. 1, eighth; Kacy Jones and General Telephone, tie for ninth.

Ankroms also won the trophy for high series game of 2872. The Eagles team had a 1047 for high team single game.

Walt Zahrad earned the trophy for high average with a .179 for the season. George Helwagen was awarded a trophy for having the lowest average.

The high individual series award went to Bill Halstenburg. He rolled a 669 record three-game series for the honors. Ralph Ankrom had second high series with 657, and Paul Clifton came in third in this department with 643.

Bob Franklin had high single game of 255. Ed Dean rolled a 244 for second and Gene Prushing bowled a 241, good for third.

Walt Halstenburg was honored for not missing a game in the league. He knocked down the most total pins during the season — 18,525.

Palmer Wins Playoff, Eyes Purse Record

Palmer Wins Playoff, Eyes Purse Record

PORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Arnold Palmer finished with a typical birdie barrage to beat young Johnny Pott for the championship of the $40,000 Colonial National Invitation. Then he announced a conscientious attack on the all-time, money-winning record for one year in professional golf.

Nerveless Arnie took a giant stride in that direction Monday when he trimmed Pott by four strokes in an 18-hole playoff to drag down the $7,000 first money.

Leading by a single stroke after nine holes, the cool-headed Pennsylvanian methodically birdied three of the next seven holes to win in a breeze.

He had a one under par 37-32-69 while Pott, playing out of Gulf Hills, Miss., came in with 38-35-73. Pott earned $3,500.

The victory, third straight and sixth of the year for Palmer, boosted his official earnings to $59,308. It left him less than $16,000 behind the one-year record of $75,268, set by himself in 1960.

"I will play more now than I previously expected since I have a good chance to break the record," he said.

Palmer, winning his eighth of 11 playoffs, said he plans to rest a little, practice a little for the National Open, play a few exhibitions and rejoin the tour at the Memphis Open in three weeks.

Gelded Pacer Grabs Honors at Lebanon

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — A strong stretch rally helped Banana Express, 4-year-old chestnut gelding, win the featured pace in a photo finish at Lebanon Raceway Monday night.

The winner, coming on from fourth place at the last turn, covered the mile in 2:08 3-5 and paid $9.80. Motor Patrol returned $3.80 for place. Melody Square was worth $4.80 for show.

ASHVILLE'S Darby valley league record stands at six wins and one loss. West Jefferson handed them their lone league defeat.

Is Rest of AL Finally Catching Up with Yanks?

Are Indians Genuine Threat? Can Frisco Scamper with Flag?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The next two weeks may bring about answers to three very pertinent questions hovering over the baseball horizon:

1. Is the rest of the American League, after years of being spread-eagled by the New York Yankees, finally catching up to the practically perennial champions?

2. Are the Cleveland Indians, pennantless since 1954, really a threat?

3. Are the San Francisco Giants going to become the first National League runaway winner since the Dodgers, then in Brooklyn, waited to a pennant in 1955?

A couple of weeks ago, Gabe Paul, general manager of the Indians, boldly stated that the Yankees would be hard pressed to repeat as champions this year. Taken lightly was his assertion that other clubs, including his own, had built themselves up to the Yankees.

Today, Paul's assertions have more meaning than they did two weeks ago, because of (a) Cleveland's current position at the head of the league (b) the Indians' early dominance of the Yankees whom they've beaten five times in seven meetings and (c) the league standings which show only 4½ games separating the first eight clubs.

There's no doubt that Gabe has revived the forlorn Indians of a year ago when they barely managed to squeeze into the first division, a whopping 30½ games behind the winning Yankees.

In a house-cleaning job, he changed managers and replaced several of last year's regulars with young, eager and speedy newcomers. The new manager, youthful Mel McGaha, besides establishing order and harmony, had fashioned a different club based on speed, pitching and defense.

Probably the biggest improvement has been in the club's bench, which has become one of the deepest and most maneuverable in the league. In the weekend series with the Yankees, McGaha platooned six outfielders and each contributed nobly in the club's three victories in four decisions.

In Sunday's double triumph, the second doubleheader sweep the Indians have accomplished over the Yankees in two weeks, the outfielders—Ty Cline, Chuck Essigman, Willie Kirkland, Willie Tasby and Don Dillard—collected 10 hits. Two of them were important pinch hits by Dillard.

An important factor in the Indians' showing this year against the Yankees, to whom Cleveland lost 14 of 18 last year, has been second baseman Jerry Kindall, acquired in a trade with the Cubs. As a defensive whiz, he has steadied the infield.

The Giants, combining a devastating batting attack with surprisingly strong pitching, threaten to upset the pattern that has produced a tight National League race in each of the last seven seasons.

The next two weeks may be the turning point. The Giants, with a four-game lead over their nearest rivals, will play 13 of their next 15 games at home. At the conclusion of a three-game series with the St. Louis Cardinals starting tonight the Giants play Houston four times, Philadelphia and New York three each. The home stand will be interrupted by a two-game series at Los Angeles.

If the Giants widen their present margin appreciably, there may be no stopping them. Even with Willie Mays in a batting slump, the Giants have sent to the showers all but two of the 32 starters they've faced.

Monday was an off day in both leagues.

HAVE MORE FUN WATER SKIING

ONCE you have mastered the fundamentals of water skiing, you can extend your skills and thrills by trying a few simple tricks and playing some fascinating water ski games.

SIMPLE TRICKS—Skiing directly behind the boat, grasp the tow rope about two feet ahead of the handle and hang on with one hand. Hook the loose handle behind each knee with your other hand. Let go of the ropes slowly and... "look ma, no hands!" It's easy to ski on one ski, too. Have the driver slow the boat down considerably. Stay inside the wake. Slowly lift up one ski and wiggle the foot slightly. The ski will fall off. Place your free foot behind the foot in the ski binding.

SIMPLE GAMES—Place a number of wood or plastic hoops in the water, arranged so the boat can follow a straight course with hoops on both sides. The object is for the skier to cross back and forth over the wake, bend down and pick up as many hoops as possible. It's called Watiki. Here's a simple slalom course: place four or five plastic floats in a course similar to Watiki and try to go outside of each float on the skis, again crossing back and forth over the wake.

NEW YORK (AP)—Television, largely for commercial reasons, is engaged in endless study of its viewers—who they are, how they live and, most of all, what they like.

The most recent—aimed directly at the sponsors' pocketbooks—undertakes to pinpoint the program preferences of some important "consumer targets," which is the Madison Avenue phrase meaning viewers with money to spend.

For instance, this one purports to show that women buyers of hair sprays prefer mystery adventure variety, drama, news and documentary shows, but women buyers of color rinse for hair add situation comedy programs to the list.

Female cigarette smokers prefer mystery-adventure and drama but male cigarette smokers also enjoy news-documentaries.

Families that use more than a dollar's worth of soaps and detergents a week were found to enjoy mystery-adventure, westerns and drama, while families that use more than three cans of scouring powder a month choose mystery-adventure, drama, news and documentary.

This is all pretty fascinating, but I can't seem to figure out a real relationship between scouring powder and a scorn of westerns, or for that matter, see why heavy tea drinkers go for horse operas while coffee drinkers prefer whodunits.

But that's Madison Avenue—always researching.

The Bing Crosby show on ABC Monday night was officially a variety hour, but it was really an hour-long mystery. For instance, where did Bing, Bob Hope and Edie Adams ever find so many nonmemorable and tuneless songs to sing? Why weren't Bob and Edie given some comedy numbers? How come the commercials seemed as numerous and as long as the entertainment numbers?

Truth to tell, it was decidedly a minor Crosby effort — good-humored and well-intentioned but very slight and apparently slung together casually. It was too bad, too, with such an array of excellent performers standing around without much to do. It wasn't a total loss: Bing and Bob got to plug their new movie.

Recommended tonight: "Cry Out in Silence," ABC, 10-10:30 (EDT)—Celeste Holm as a woman whose larynx has been removed; "Close-Up," ABC, 10:30-11—study of the national problem of water pollution.

Inmates To Assist In Study of Fluoride

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State Penitentiary inmates, in a new volunteer "assist" to medical science, will help university researchers find out more about fluoride and its effects on the human body.

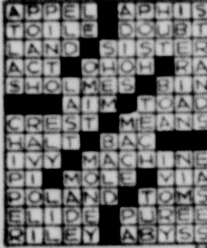

The tests will be conducted at the penitentiary under the supervision of Dr. Walter Frajola, director of Ohio State University's Hoster Laboratory. They involve study of enzyme activity in human blood together with measurement of fluoride levels, Dr. Frajola said.

Is Rest of AL Finally Catching Up with Yanks?

Are Indians Genuine Threat? Can Frisco Scamper with Flag?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The next two weeks may bring about answers to three very pertinent questions hovering over the baseball horizon:

1. Is the rest of the American League, after years of being spread-eagled by the New York Yankees, finally catching up to the practically perennial champions?

2. Are the Cleveland Indians, pennantless since 1954, really a threat?

3. Are the San Francisco Giants going to become the first National League runaway winner since the Dodgers, then in Brooklyn, waltzed to a pennant in 1955?

A couple of weeks ago, Gabe Paul, general manager of the Indians, boldly stated that the Yankees would be hard pressed to repeat as champions this year. Taken lightly was his assertion that other clubs, including his own, had built themselves up to the Yankees.

Today, Paul's assertions have more meaning than they did two weeks ago, because of (a) Cleveland's current position at the head of the league (b) the Indians' early dominance of the Yankees whom they've beaten five times in seven meetings and (c) the league standings which show only 4½ games separating the first eight clubs.

There's no doubt that Gabe has revived the forlorn Indians of a year ago when they barely managed to squeeze into the first division, a whopping 30½ games behind the winning Yankees.

In a house-cleaning job, he changed managers and replaced several of last year's regulars with young, eager and speedy newcomers. The new manager, youthful Mel McGaha, besides establishing order and harmony, had fashioned a different club based on speed, pitching and defense.

Probably the biggest improvement has been in the club's bench, which has become one of the deepest and most maneuverable in the league. In the weekend series with the Yankees, McGaha platooned six outfielders and each contributed nobly in the club's three victories in four decisions.

In Sunday's double triumph, the second doubleheader sweep the Indians have accomplished over the Yankees in two weeks, the outfielders—Ty Cline, Chuck Essegian, Willie Kirkland, Willie Tasby and Don Dillard—collected 10 hits. Two of them were important pinch hits by Dillard.

An important factor in the Indians' showing this year against the Yankees, to whom Cleveland lost 14 of 18 last year, has been second baseman Jerry Kindall, acquired in a trade with the Cubs. As a defensive whiz, he has steadied the infield.

The Giants, combining a devastating batting attack with surprisingly strong pitching, threaten to upset the pattern that has produced a tight National League race in each of the last seven seasons.

The next two weeks may be the turning point. The Giants, with a four-game lead over their nearest rivals, will play 13 of their next 25 games at home. At the conclusion of a three-game series with the St. Louis Cardinals starting tonight the Giants play Houston four times, Philadelphia and New York three each. The home stand will be interrupted by a two-game series at Los Angeles.

If the Giants widen their present margin appreciably, there may be no stopping them. Even with Willie Mays in a batting slump, the Giants have sent to the showers all but two of the 32 starters they've faced.

Monday was an off day in both leagues.

Good Family Night of Fun Planned by Scout Boosters

A youth carnival, featuring games, exhibits, door prizes and billed generally as a "good family night of fun", will be held in the Fairgrounds coliseum Friday starting at 6:30 p. m.

Admission to the carnival, sponsored by the Pickaway County Boy Scout Boosters Club, is free. All proceeds obtained through the various amusements and events will be used by the Boosters to finance Scouting programs of an "extracurricular" nature.

The Boosters Club is composed of adults interested in promoting all phases of Boy Scout activity. It seeks to provide educational and recreational programs for which funds from the Community Chest are not available. Boosters chose to hold the carnival to obtain money for several summer projects.

GENERAL chairman for the carnival is Dick Compton. He is being assisted by Wayne Griffith, ticket sales; Emerson Cline, prizes; Frank Wirth and Gene Dowler, general arrangements; Gary Winner, special services and Earl Palm, publicity.

About 20 different attractions will be set up in the Coliseum. Booster members will work as volunteers to operate the exhibition. Special features of the evening will include a white elephant sale, a "spook house" and an old-fashioned cake walk.

Phillip Hines Receives GE Promotion

Phillip Hines' promotion to home office quality control specialist for Large Lamp Manufacturing Department of General Electric was announced today in Cleveland by John Wright, manager of Manufacturing, according to E. G. Grigg, local plant manager.

Hines was graduated from Notre Dame University with a BS in aeronautical engineering. He joined General Electric in 1950.

One of his training program assignments was at the local plant in 1951. He later accepted a regular assignment at Circleville in 1953 and has been here since with responsibility as supervisor of Quality Engineering the past four years.

Hines has been active in Scouting as a scoutmaster, an assistant district commissioner, assistant cubmaster and many different committees and projects. He has been active in the Society of Professional Engineers and is presently Vice-President of Southern Ohio Chapter.

HE HAS been active for many years in the Presbyterian Church and is presently holding the office of elder and superintendent of Junior-Adult Sunday School.

Hines, his wife, and two children presently reside at 1057 Lynwood Avenue. Exact date of his transfer has not yet been established.

Traffic Ticket 'Fix' Probed In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—An investigation of alleged traffic ticket "fixing" involving mostly teenage violators was under way here today.

The investigation came into the open Monday as the result of a probe by two Cleveland Plain Dealer reporters, the police department and the police prosecutor's office.

Traffic Commissioner James P. Halloran said he would seek a bench warrant from Municipal Judge Theodore Williams for the arrest of a juvenile court employee accused as the ticket "fixer." Authorities said a West Side drive-in restaurant has been the rendezvous for the "fixer" and youthful traffic violators.

William Treon, a Plain Dealer reporter, told police he gave the alleged "fixer" $27.20 last Thursday night to fix two traffic tickets. The tickets were issued by police at the request of the reporter for the purpose of the investigation. Treon's case was continued in Judge Williams' court Monday at the request of the alleged ticket "fixer," who is not a lawyer. The continuance was granted by the judge's bailiff.

Ohio's Kennedy Slated To Meet 'the' Kennedy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's politically aspiring Kennedy — Richard Kennedy, the Democratic nominee for Congressman-at-large — and the 23 other Democratic congressional nominees from Ohio will meet President Kennedy in Washington May 25-26.

State Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman said Kennedy will address the group, and cabinet members and government officials will hold briefings to explain the administration's position on November election campaign issues.

Actor Finds Way To Beat Phone Company's Surcharge

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Every consumer dreams of somehow licking the public utilities. Tony Randall has done it.

Randall was in Hollywood for—well, he wasn't quite sure. "I GUESS I'm here to kiss my agent goodbye before I go to Europe," said the New York-based actor. He is taking his first trip abroad to film "Not On Your Life" for Warner Bros.

Any visit by Randall to these shores is welcome, since he always offers some novel, unconfirming views on our conforming society. He told of his conquest of the telephone company.

"I have an unlisted phone number in New York," said he. "One day three years ago, the telephone company sent me a notice that I would henceforth be charged 50 cents per month to have my number unlisted. If I were going to play the game right, I would pay."

"Apparently unlisted phones

cost them money. People are always trying to find out numbers that are unlisted, and such inquiries have to be answered. It ties up a girl."

"I thought of a way out. I filled out the application to have my phone listed under the name of Reuben L. Pischmann (This name has been changed to protect Randall)."

"Think of it! I am saving 50 cents a month. That adds up. In three years I have saved $18. In a thousand years, it would amount to $6,000!"

Besides the saving, Randall is provided with a source of amusement. Like all listed numbers, he is subjected to that modern nuisance, the telephone salesman.

"I have a ready reply," said Randall. "I usually answer in the voice of my secretary. When the salesman asks if Mr. Pischmann would like to have his drapes cleaned, I tell them in a sobbing voice, 'This is Mrs. Pischmann—sob!—Mr. Pischmann died this morning.'"

We went on to other matters, such as Randall's future in the movie game. He admitted that he plays second lead to Robert Preston in "Not On Your Life," which will be filmed in Athens and the Greek Isles.

"But that is the last time," he vowed. "After that, it is top banana or nothing!"

He explained: "You see, 'Pillow Talk' got me into a trap. It was so darned successful—$14 million in this country alone—that I was in demand to play the leading man's friend. This has paid extremely well (he gets $150,000 for "Not On Your Life"), but I could end my days playing Rock Hudson's friend."

Showman Group Sues In Concession Dispute

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The attorney for the Ohio Showmen's Association has filed a suit to force Ohio Agriculture Director Robert Terhune to issue licenses to concession - game operators to appear at county fairs.

The suit, filed Monday, seeks a restraining order against Terhune, who last Friday refused to issue licenses to a Columbus man claiming his games constitute gambling under a recent decision by Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Fair, unseasonably mild weather continued over Ohio Monday night. Low temperatures were mostly in the 60s.

At 6 a.m. (EST) today, readings ranged from 62 at Zanesville to 68 at Dayton and Akron.

High pressure over the southeast portion of the state continues to block the normal eastward movement of weather systems, and several more days of hot weather are anticipated.

The moisture content of the air mass over Ohio has increased slightly, however, and there may be a few isolated thundershowers both this evening and again Wednesday evening.

High temperatures today will again be mostly in the upper 80s and low 90s.

Circleville Woman To Star In 'Li'l Abner' Production

"Li'l Abner", the popular comic strip by Al Capp, comes to life on the stage of Veterans Memorial auditorium next Tuesday and Wednesday.

The musical comedy will be staged by the Independent Players of Columbus and will co-star a Circleville native, Mrs. Beverly Pettit.

Mrs. Pettit, the former Beverly Reid, daughter of Mrs. Irvin Reid, 827 Pershing Drive, is cast as "Daisy Mae". The amateur actress now resides with her husband, Jack, and children in Upper Arlington.

Mrs. Pettit, a graduate of Circleville High School, played the female lead in "Carousel" presented by the Independent Players last year and she starred in "New Girl in Town" in 1960 presented on the stage of the Hartman Theater.

THE lively and rollicking show played an extended season on Broadway and was later made into a movie starring Peter Palm-

St. Philip's Plans Preschool Session On Kindergarten

St. Philip's Preschool will have an open house session of its kindergarten from 9-11 a. m., May 22 at the Parish House, 129 W. Mound St.

Mrs. Robert Litter, director of the Preschool, announced yesterday that the purpose of the open house is to acquaint people who have children of ages four or five with the program of the Preschool. A typical school day will be demonstrated at the open house and will include a session of the twice-a-week French class which is taught by Mrs. James Stallings.

Application blanks for the school will be available for those who wish to sign up for a reservation in the 1962-63 class which will open in September.

Ex-Slav Veep Handed 9-Year Prison Term

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) —Milovan Djilas, former vice president of Yugoslavia, was convicted today of disclosing state secrets and sentenced to 9 years and 9 months of strict imprisonment.

His trial was held behind closed doors.

Included in his prison sentence was five years of a term which Djilas 51, had not served of a previous sentence of nine years imposed in 1957.

Lawrence Countian Flees Honor Camp

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — A 42-year-old Lawrence County man serving a term for murder has apparently made good his escape by walking out of the honor prison camp at Hueston Woods State Park. Camp Officials said Monday night Dempsey Wickline, who had served a dozen years on a life sentence in the death of his father-in-law, had not been found. He was reported missing Sunday night.

Marietta Boy Shoots Dad To Avenge Mom

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—A 14-year-old Marietta boy shot and wounded his father Monday several hours after the father beat and seriously injured his wife, the Washington County sheriff reported.

Sheriff Dean D. Ellis said Daniel E. Mitchell Grady was being held in Washington County jail pending investigation of the incidents leading to the shooting.

Wounded and partially paralyzed when the .22 caliber bullet lodged in his spine was 36-year-old Ralph Grady. He was listed in satisfactory condition in University Hospital in Columbus after surgery.

Sheriff Ellis said the elder Grady beat Mrs. Grady during an argument Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Grady was hospitalized with three broken ribs and bruises.

Later that night, Ellis said, "Daniel was thinking about the beating. About one o'clock (early Monday) he got the rifle and shot his father in the back while he was sleeping."

Grady managed to reach a telephone and summon help, Ellis said.

The boy was taken into custody at a neighbor's home. Sheriff Ellis said Daniel accidentally shot and killed his brother, Ralph Jr., while they and their father were target shooting in September 1959.

Local RC Chapter Offers Six-Week First-Aid Course

A class in Standard First Aid is being offered by the Pickaway County Chapter, American Red Cross, and is scheduled to begin Thursday evening.

The class will meet from 7 to 9 p. m., in the chapter rooms at 137 Watt St., each Thursday for six consecutive weeks. Mrs. Arthur Bowman will be the instructor.

Mrs. Roloff Wolford, executive secretary of the chapter, announced today that anyone interested in the course may enroll by calling the RC office at GR 4-5736 or by attending Thursday's session.

Fists Fly At Cleveland Dem Parley

CLEVELAND (AP)—Fists flew briefly at the Democratic county convention here Monday night after Councilman Anthony Pecyk, a rebel to the county leadership, tried unsuccessfully to present a 10-point program for adoption.

When Pecyk left his seat and moved to the platform to hand over his self-style bill of rights to the secretary, he was surrounded by sergeants-at-arms.

Fists flew as Pecyk was being escorted to the rear of the hall. In the confusion it wasn't possible to determine who was hitting whom. Pecyk said a sergeant-at-arms named Frank Ruskay had a strangle-hold on him and was choking him.

Ruskay had a different version: "As we got halfway up the aisle, Pecyk took a swing at one of the precinct committeemen, and so I carried Pecyk out to the lobby. I was trying to stop a fight."

Aside from the fracas, the meeting went according to plan. Chairman Ra. T. Miller, leader of the Cuyahoga County Democrats since 1938, was re-elected, along with all other officers. None had opposition.

The bill of rights Pecyk sought to present to the convention of elected committeemen called for election of the chairman by secret ballot, provision that any elected committeeman could speak at the convention and retention of power by precinct committeemen rather than delegation to the executive committee and party officers.

Kiwanis Hears Address by Dr. Dunlap

An interesting talk on the origin and history of horse shows featured the program agenda at last night's Kiwanis Club meeting.

The facts were presented by Dr. F. P. Dunlap, local veterinarian. He described the way back to the chariot races in ancient Rome and progressed to the present.

Dr. Dunlap explained various classes represented in modern horse shows Kiwanian Dale Ankrom presented a talk on pony classes.

The timely program coincided with the Kiwanis Club's Charity Horse Show scheduled May 26 and 27 at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

President Truman Eberly announced another work session for tomorrow at the Fairgrounds, starting at 6:30 p. m., to put final touches in pre-show preparations. All Kiwanians are welcome.

Good Family Night of Fun Planned by Scout Boosters

A youth carnival, featuring games, exhibits, door prizes and billed generally as a "good family night of fun", will be held in the Fairgrounds coliseum Friday starting at 6:30 p. m.

Admission to the carnival, sponsored by the Pickaway County Boy Scout Boosters Club, is free. All proceeds obtained through the various amusements and events will be used by the Boosters to finance Scouting programs of an "extracurricular" nature.

The Boosters Club is composed of adults interested in promoting all phases of Boy Scout activity. It seeks to provide educational and recreational programs for which funds from the Community Chest are not available.

Boosters chose to hold the carnival to obtain money for several summer projects.

GENERAL chairman for the carnival is Dick Compton. He is being assisted by Wayne Griffith, ticket sales; Emerson Cline, prizes; Frank Wirth and Gene Dowler, general arrangements; Gary Winner, special services and Earl Palm, publicity.

About 20 different attractions will be set up in the Coliseum. Booster members will work as volunteers to operate the exhibition.

Special features of the evening will include a white elephant sale, a "spook house" and an old-fashioned cake walk.

Phillip Hines Receives GE Promotion

Phillip Hines' promotion to home office quality control specialist for Large Lamp Manufacturing Department of General Electric was announced today in Cleveland by John Wright, manager of Manufacturing, according to E. G. Grigg, local plant manager.

Hines was graduated from Notre Dame University with a BS in aeronautical engineering. He joined General Electric in 1950.

One of his training program assignments was at the local plant in 1951. He later accepted a regular assignment at Circleville in 1953 and has been here since with responsibility as supervisor of Quality Engineering the past four years.

Hines has been active in Scouting as a scoutmaster, an assistant district commissioner, assistant cubmaster and many different committees and projects. He has been active in the Society of Professional Engineers and is presently Vice-President of Southern Ohio Chapter.

HE HAS been active for many years in the Presbyterian Church and is presently holding the office of elder and superintendent of Junior-Adult Sunday School.

Hines, his wife, and two children presently reside at 1057 Lynwood Avenue. Exact date of his transfer has not yet been established.

Traffic Ticket 'Fix' Probed In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—An investigation of alleged traffic ticket "fixing" involving mostly teenage violators was under way here today.

The investigation came into the open Monday as the result of a probe by two Cleveland Plain Dealer reporters, the police department and the police prosecutor's office.

Traffic Commissioner James P. Halloran said he would seek a bench warrant from Municipal Judge Theodore Williams for the arrest of a juvenile court employee accused as the ticket "fixer." Authorities said a West Side drive-in restaurant has been the rendezvous for the "fixer" and youthful traffic violators.

William Treon, a Plain Dealer reporter, told police he gave the alleged "fixer" $27.20 last Thursday night to fix two traffic tickets. The tickets were issued by police at the request of the reporter for the purpose of the investigation.

Treon's case was continued in Judge Williams' court Monday at the request of the alleged ticket "fixer," who is not a lawyer. The continuance was granted by the judge's bailiff.

Ohio's Kennedy Slated To Meet 'the' Kennedy
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's politically aspiring Kennedy — Richard Kennedy, the Democratic nominee for Congressman-at-large — and the 23 other Democratic congressional nominees from Ohio will meet President Kennedy in Washington May 25-26.

State Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman said Kennedy will address the group, and cabinet members and government officials will hold briefings to explain the administration's position on November election campaign issues.

Actor Finds Way To Beat Phone Company's Surcharge

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Every consumer dreams of somehow licking the public utilities. Tony Randall has done it.

Randall was in Hollywood for—well, he wasn't quite sure. "I GUESS I'm here to kiss my agent goodbye before I go to Europe," said the New York-based actor. He is taking his first trip abroad to film "Not On Your Life" for Warner Bros.

Any visit by Randall to these shores is welcome, since he always offers some novel, unconfirming views on our conforming society. He told of his conquest of the telephone company.

"I have an unlisted phone number in New York," said he. "One day three years ago, the telephone company sent me a notice that I would henceforth be charged 50 cents per month to have my number unlisted. If I were going to play the game right, I would pay."

"Apparently unlisted phones

cost them money. People are always trying to find out numbers that are unlisted, and such inquiries have to be answered. It ties up a girl.

"I thought of a way out. I filled out the application to have my phone listed under the name of Reuben L. Pischmann (This name has been changed to protect Randall).

"Think of it! I am saving 50 cents a month. That adds up. In three years I have saved $18. In a thousand years, it would amount to $6,000!"

Besides the saving, Randall is provided with a source of amusement. Like all listed numbers, he is subjected to that modern nuisance, the telephone salesman.

"I have a ready reply," said Randall. "I usually answer in the voice of my secretary. When the salesman asks if Mr. Pischmann would like to have his drapes cleaned, I tell them in a sobbing voice, 'This is Mrs. Pischmann—sob!—Mr. Pischmann died this morning.'"

We went on to other matters, such as Randall's future in the movie game. He admitted that he plays second lead to Robert Preston in "Not On Your Life," which will be filmed in Athens and the Greek isles.

"But that is the last time," he vowed. "After that, it is top banana or nothing!"

He explained: "You see, 'Pillow Talk' got me into a trap. It was so darned successful—$14 million in this country alone—that I was in demand to play the leading man's friend. This has paid extremely well (he gets $150,000 for "Not On Your Life"), but I could end my days playing Rock Hudson's friend."

Showman Group Sues In Concession Dispute

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The attorney for the Ohio Showmen's Association has filed a suit to force Ohio Agriculture Director Robert Terhune to issue licenses to concession game operators to appear at county fairs.

The suit, filed Monday, seeks a restraining order against Terhune, who last Friday refused to issue licenses to a Columbus man claiming his games constitute gambling under a recent decision by Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Fair, unseasonably mild weather continued over Ohio Monday night. Low temperatures were mostly in the 60s.

At 6 a.m. (EST) today, readings ranged from 62 at Zanesville to 68 at Dayton and Akron.

High pressure over the southeast portion of the state continues to block the normal eastward movement of weather systems, and several more days of hot weather are anticipated.

The moisture content of the air mass over Ohio has increased slightly, however, and there may be a few isolated thundershowers both this evening and again Wednesday evening.

High temperatures today will again be mostly in the upper 80s and low 90s.
